U.S. Files Suit Against Thirty Oil Companies

COURT ACTION ON ALLEGED COMBINE

Standard Holds Nation-Wide Control in Violation of Sherman Law, Claim

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—In a gigantic effort to break the alleged control of the Standard Oil company over gasoline and oil prices in the United States, the federal government today charged thirty of the country's great oil companies with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and asked the district court at Chicago to enjoin them from further violations.

The suits were filed under the direction of Attorney-General Stone on the basis of an investigation conducted by the federal trade commission.

Many Face Action

The litigation thus started by the government is regarded by officials of the department of justice as among the most important that has been undertaken during the past quarter of a century.

The companies named in the bill include the Standard of Indiana, Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, Standard of Kansas, Standard of Louisiana, Standard of New York, Standard of Ohio, the Texas company, the American Refining company, the Aetna Refining company and twenty other great oil companies.

FINDS GAME FISH IN NORTH LAKES

C. L. Smith Reports Limit Hooked in Two Hours In High Sierras

The best sport in his long and varied career as a fisherman was encountered by C. L. Smith, Chevrolet dealer, Orange and Colorado streets, on a ten-day trip that he and Mrs. Smith made through the High Sierras and from which they have just returned with loaded creels.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith started fishing at Mammoth lake, Twin lakes, Lake George and Lake Mary, and at all these places they found good sport, but it was not until they heard of the new short cut to June lake, Gull, Silver and Grant lakes, that lie in a chain at an elevation of more than 7000 feet, that they really got into the big fish and the exciting sport.

These four lakes lie to the left of Bishop, off the road to Yosemite. The old road to Silver lake means a trip of seventy-six miles from Bishop, but the new route, that has just been opened this year, cuts the distance to fifty-five miles, or fifty to Grant lake, the lowest in the chain.

Heavily Stocked

The lakes in this chain were stocked with 90,000 trout two years ago, says Mr. Smith, but the feeding in the lake is so good that the fish have reached a size of from sixteen to twenty inches in two years, and they fight like terriers when they feel the hook.

Fishing between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon, Mr. and Mrs. Smith both caught the limit of big fish the first day they were on the upper lakes, and so enthused is Mr. Smith over what he terms this fisherman's paradise that he bought a homesite on June lake, near Boulder Lodge, where he plans to spend all of his spare time from now until the fishing season closes.

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Establishing a new record, 177 persons were examined in Los Angeles today for permission to practice law.

Goes Abroad

FRANK B. GUERNSEY, president of the Pasadena Ad club and advertising manager of the Pasadena Furniture company, who left Los Angeles today for London in the interest of his club and firm.

To Visit Home Furnishing Institutions In Many European Cities

When the delegates from various advertising clubs of Southern California left Los Angeles today on a special train headed for New York, where they will sail July 3 for London, one of the delegates was Frank B. Guernsey, president of the Advertising club of Pasadena, and advertising manager of the Pasadena Furniture company.

Mr. Guernsey was only recently elected to the executive position by his fellowmen in the Crown City, and his promotion is an honor to his ability along his chosen lines. Other Pasadena delegates making the trip to London, where the big convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World will be held, are Miss Emeline Mears, Mrs. Martha Haskell and Harry Fitzgerald.

Seeks New Ideas

While in London, Mr. Guernsey will be the guest of the Right Honorable Lord Waring of Waring and Gillows, Ltd., the largest home furnishing institution in London. Mr. Guernsey will endeavor to absorb some of the atmosphere of European homes and European home furnishing establishments in order to apply the results of his observations in his work for the Pasadena concern, which is erecting a new store on East Colorado street near Oakland avenue, Pasadena. The new store will be one of the finest in Southern California and will have every modern appliance for the convenience of its patrons.

Mr. Guernsey will visit the great home furnishing institutions of London and Paris and will confer with advertising men and furniture men from all over the United States and Europe while on his foreign tour.

The Pasadena Furniture company has a Glendale branch at 400 South Brand boulevard, and Mr. Guernsey is well known to a number of Glendale people.

Crew's Heroic Fight Fails to Save Vessel

ALBION, Cal., June 25.—After they had battled for ten hours with the pumps in an effort to save the vessel, eighteen members of the crew of the motorship Mary Hanlon were forced early today to take to lifeboats and, despite a heavy swell, succeeded in making this port safely as the ship went down off the Mendocino coast. The Mary Hanlon left here late yesterday with 5000 railroad ties and fifty tons of iron for Astoria, Ore.

Council of Catholic Women in Meeting

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Immigration, the place of women in civil life and responsibilities of citizenship were the problems discussed here today at the convention of the Council of Catholic women.

CITY SCHOOL BUDGET IS ADOPTED

Board Makes Estimate of Maintenance; Rate Is As Yet Undecided

The Board of Education last night adopted the 1924-25 maintenance budget of the Glendale city school district, as submitted by Richardson D. White, superintendent, totaling $456,201. The meeting was held at the offices of the superintendent, 107½ South Brand boulevard.

General control	$ 21,640
Teachers' salaries	338,518
Other expenses of instruction	18,400
Library	6,800
Operation of school plant	32,418
Maintenance of school plant	4,000
Fixed charges	2,100
Other sundry activities	5,325
Estimated outstanding debts	7,000
Balance desired June 30, 1925	20,000
Total	$456,201

Estimates Income

The possible income for 1924-25, as estimated by Mr. White, based on an assessed valuation of $42,000,000 and an average daily school attendance of 4,235 pupils, is as follows:

Maintenance funds	$452,867
Kindergarten fund	68,500
Building fund	99,000
Total	$620,367

In submitting this budget to the board, Mr. White made it clear that the figures were only estimates, as the actual assessed valuation will not be fixed definitely until August, when the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, sitting as the Board of Equalization, fixes the Glendale tax rate.

Await Board's Action

Adoption of this budget increases by 4 cents the rate for the elementary special fund, decreases the rate for the kindergarten fund by 3 cents and decreases the building special fund by 7 cents, Mr. White pointed out, making a net decrease of 6 cents in the rate of these funds.

This does not necessarily mean that there will be a decrease in the general tax rate, he told the members of the board, as the rate is dependent upon many other factors, such as the general county common school, general county high school and junior college, all of which rates are fixed by the Board of Supervisors.

TAXATION TOPIC AT REALTY MEET

Thomas W. Watson, Former City Manager, Presents Facts and Figures

Tracing the history of taxation from its earliest beginnings, Thomas W. Watson, realtor and former city manager, speaking on "Taxation and Local Regulation" at the weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty board in the Alley Inn today, predicted that a sweeping change in the methods of levying and collecting taxes, will be made in the near future, when all levies for federal, state, county, city and school purposes will be assessed and collected by tax commissions in each state, composed of men free from all political influence or control.

"In California," said Mr. Watson, "all of the state taxes come from two sources, taxes from corporation franchises and an inheritance tax. Out of the $40,000,000 raised last year for taxes, $34,000,000 was paid by corporations, and $6,000,000 by the inheritance tax.

FAVORS PLAN OF COUNTY HOSPITAL

C. of C. Directors' Board Endorses Project for Emergency Plants

Directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night authorized the adoption of a resolution endorsing the plan to establish four additional county hospitals at different points throughout the county, following the reading of a request for such action from the Municipal league and the submission of a report by L. T. Rowley on the subject.

Mr. Rowley stated that Supervisor Henry W. Wright is favorable toward the plan for the location of county hospitals at points where indigent and emergency cases can be cared for without taking them to the Los Angeles General hospital, and it was stated by D. A. Johnston of Tujunga that the supervisors have already had representatives looking over the Glendale-Burbank district for sites that might be suitable for a hospital.

Resigns from Committee

President W. E. Hewitt, who had been selected as the representative of the Chamber of Commerce on the bond advisory committee that was recently authorized by the City Council, resigned his post on the ground that a proposal to issue bonds for the purchase of the airport site is likely to be placed before the committee and the voters of Glendale, and that he, as a part owner of the property in question, could not act in the matter. P. J. Hayselden was chosen to take the place left vacant by Mr. Hewitt.

Attorneys representing Charles R. Stuart, advertising expert, advised the board that Mr. Stuart had placed in their hands the matter of his claim for payment for his services in the preparation of the advertising in the city's campaign. The amount asked by Mr. Stuart, $750, would be accepted if paid at this time, they wrote, but otherwise the full amount of

COUNCIL ACTS ON SAVING MEASURE

Empowers Superintendent of Plant and Production To Take Action

A resolution empowering Superintendent Diederich of the Glendale light and water department to regulate necessary cuts in electricity was adopted this morning by the City Council, assembled in special session.

The meeting was called by Mayor Spencer Robinson, at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, following a meeting last night of the latter body, to consider ways and means of meeting a situation which has become critical.

D. H. Rowan, district manager of the Southern California Edison company, was present and laid the facts before the Council and representative residents, stating that the people have not realized the seriousness of the situation, which means absolute ruin to Southern California unless met at once with a 25 per cent cut in electric light and power.

Adopt Resolution

Following is the resolution adopted:

"Whereas, due to lack of rainfall during the past year, there exists a very serious shortage in water storage by the Southern California Edison company for the production of electricity; and

"Whereas, the railroad commission has made certain orders relative to limiting the consumption of electricity by consumers of the Southern California, Edison company; and

"Whereas, the Southern California Edison company supplies the city of Glendale with electric current;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Council of the city of Glendale; That the superintendent of plant and production of the city of Glendale is hereby empowered

POWER PLANT FOR CITY NOW URGED

Suggest City Vote Bonds to Take Care of Its Own Problems in Future

"The people of Glendale must reduce their consumption of electric current immediately and they must cut it very materially, or the Southern California Edison company will pull the switch on us within a few days," declared C. W. Ingledue at the weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty board in the Alley Inn at noon today.

W. A. Horn, former councilman, in supporting the statements of Mr. Ingledue, declared that the stoppage of electric current to Glendale would mean that the city would be dry within six hours, as the pumps that deliver the water from the city wells at Grand View would be shut off and the reservoir capacity, he said, would not be sufficient to tide the city over more than a very brief period.

Municipal Power Plant

The suggestion that Glendale immediately launch a move to pass a bond issue to install a power plant of its own, made by James M. Rhoades, was warmly supported, Mr. Rhoades claiming that such a course would free this city from the domination of the power companies and would obviate the recurrence of a similar condition in future.

Mr. Horn declared that the city of Glendale has in its reserve fund the sum of over $100,000 which, he claimed, could be used toward the erection of a power plant.

President Peter Hanson, who was summoned into conference this morning with the City Council as the representative of the Realty board, stated that the organization to handle the present situation would be perfected within a few days and that the problem would be worked out for the best interests of the city through the proper conservation of power.

CONFER OVER ELECTRICAL REDUCTION

Business Men Meet With C. of C. Directors to Determine Program

Glendale is threatened with a discontinuance of electric service unless the 25 per cent reduction in consumption is effected at once, as asked by the Southern California Edison company, according to a statement by Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production to the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their weekly meeting last night, when a number of business men were present to discuss the situation.

A letter from the State Railroad commission declared that the present shortage of power has already assumed serious proportions.

The commission's letter recommended the use of other power, wherever possible; the elimination of store lights, flood lights and advertising signs; street and residence lights to be reduced to the minimum; industrial power consumption to be cut at least 25 per cent.

Not Enough Reduction

Mr. Diederich's report showed that the reduction that has been effected in consumption in Glendale since the request was made that economy be practiced has been between 4 and 5 per cent, and officials of the Southern California Edison company have declared their intention to cut off the Glendale service unless a greater reduction is shown at once.

The consumption of electricity is greatest in the residence districts, said Mr. Diederich. The business men, he said, have responded to the first demands by cutting down their use of electricity to the minimum in many cases.

The threat to discontinue the service brought a protest from C. E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, who asserted that such action would entail serious consequences to the local hospitals in the treatment of their patients.

NEW SCHEDULE ON AIR MAIL ROUTE

Postmaster Jackson Gives Information Relative to Service Betterment

Starting July 1, a new airplane-rail mail schedule will be followed in sending Glendale mail to eastern points, Postmaster J. Ripley Jackson announced today. Closing time on eastbound mail to connect with air route will be 8:10 a. m., Postmaster Jackson said, and this mail will reach Salt Lake at 12:25 p. m., mountain time, the next day; leave there 2:15 p. m., mountain time, and reach New York 5:05 p. m., eastern time, the third day out of Glendale.

Mail for Chicago will reach there at 7:20 a. m., central time, of the final day, the schedule shows. The postage rate will be 8 cents an ounce to points west of Cheyenne; 16 cents an ounce to points west of and including Chicago, and 24 cents an ounce for points between Chicago and New York.

Special Stamps

Mail for this route must carry special airplane mail stamps, or can carry ordinary stamps and be marked "Via Air Mail." This class of mail can be registered and can also be sent special delivery, Postmaster Jackson said.

While no westbound schedule has been worked out, it is possible air mail for Glendale will come to Salt Lake by plane and to this city by train. The eastbound combination route cuts the time from five to three days, as a letter leaving here Monday morning is in New York Wednesday afternoon if sent by air.

Democrats Refuse To Endorse League In 1924 Platform

NEW YORK, June 25.—A death knell to the hopes of a Woodrow Wilson faction for revival of the League of Nations issue in the coming campaign was sounded late this afternoon when the Democratic platform subcommittee tentatively decided not to again recommend American adherence.

The sub-committee, engaged in drafting a platform, favored a plank postponing a renewal of the League fight until the issue could be made non-partisan.

BOND ISSUE BOARD IS FORMED

D. H. Smith Is Chosen as Chairman; Improvements To Be Proposed

To meet the pressing need for public improvements, the Citizens' Bond committee was organized this morning at a meeting of representative residents, D. H. Smith being named chairman and Mrs. Frank C. Weller, secretary. The meeting was called by City Manager Virgil B. Stone, with the approval of the City Council. Representatives of practically every civic organization in Glendale were invited to be present, and nineteen responded.

The need for bond issues to finance certain necessary public improvements was clearly stated by Mr. Stone in a written report that surveyed the situation. It was brought out that if these improvements were included in the budget to be raised by direct taxation, the entire burden would fall on the present property owners and cause an exorbitant tax rate; whereas by distributing the cost over a period of years, by means of a bond issue, the cost would be more equitably adjusted.

Plan Sub-Committees

Peter Hanson was named chairman of a committee on committees, comprising in addition H. M. Butts, Rev. E. E. Ford, Alexander Mitchell and Charles Marshall; this committee to meet 9 o'clock Friday morning, June 27, in the Realty board office, and select ten sub-committees of three members each.

The priority of public improvements contemplated by the proposed bond issue was informally discussed, and it appeared the consensus of opinion that those improvements directly affecting the public health and safety should have first consideration by the committee.

The meeting was brief and adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, July 2, in the auditorium of the Harvard High school.

The following were present: Virgil B. Stone, city manager;

KLAN ISSUE RESULTS IN OUTBREAK ON FLOOR

Opponents of Hooded Order In Wild Demonstration; McAdoo Is Named

NEW YORK, June 25.—After a hectic session of nearly six hours during which there was staged a tumultuous demonstration against the Ku Klux Klan and an hour's well organized demonstration for William Gibbs McAdoo, the Democratic National convention adjourned at 4:35 o'clock this afternoon until 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

In today's long session the convention managers disposed of all preliminaries and got the convention down to the principal issues—naming of candidates and adoption of platform.

Placing of candidates in nomination was started shortly after 2 o'clock and before the session ended three names had been put in, Oscar W. Underwood, Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas and McAdoo of California.

Fight Over Klan

The convention was thrown into a tumultuous demonstration and a half dozen sporadic fights this afternoon over the Ku Klux Klan.

It came when Forney Johnston of Birmingham, Ala., formally placed the name of Senator Oscar Underwood before the convention and made it emphatically clear that the Alabama senator is staunchly opposed to the hooded order and all its works.

He mentioned the Klan by name, and no sooner had it dropped from his lips than the solid delegations of New York, Illinois, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and New Jersey leaped to their feet almost as one and made the Garden ring with their cheers.

"Stand, Georgia" and "Stand up, Missouri" came from the anti-Klan delegations.

Missouri sat still. So did Colorado and a number of other states.

Calls For Police

A parade was started around the hall in which most of the state banners were caught up by marchers, amid tumultuous din.

One anti-Klansman made a grab for the Missouri banner. A dozen hands sought to keep it stationary, and a struggle for it ensued.

"Police!" yelled one woman, and a stalwart Irish cop rushed up and separated the combatants.

Thereafter, Mrs. Milford Riggs of Ironton, Mo., kept close watch over the banner and the cop stood by to see that she was unmolested in its possession.

In the Colorado delegation there was a similar scrap and before it ended, the sign was torn to pieces and broken.

One of the delegates attempted to take the banner into the parade

INVESTORS TURN TO REAL ESTATE

Renewed Optimism Shown As Buyers Realize Change For Dormant Funds

"Renewed optimism is now taking hold of the real estate investors, and money apparently lying dormant is now becoming more active. Southern California, and Glendale in particular, strategically located as it is, with continued new development, speaks well for the general prosperity of southern California," says W. B. Kelly, realty operator, 106 West Colorado street.

"The new Glendale subway now being constructed by the Pacific Electric railway will give speedy transportation to the heart of Los Angeles and awaken the homeseeker and the business man to Glendale's possibilities. Glendale might be called the Brooklyn of Los Angeles, as Brooklyn is to New York City. The home of a clean, healthy and residential district for the commuter.

Expansion Projects

"Construction of our sewer will greatly add to the prestige of Glendale. The expansion of our school system now being projected, the acquiring of the old high school grounds for a civic center, will show progressive tendencies of our wide-awake citizens. Building of a high school in the northwest section will show another era of progress.

"The enlargement and expansion of our library is necessary to keep pace with the growth of our city. A community hotel, fostered, built and owned by the citizens of Glendale, would further augment Glendale's prestige. These and many other things will keep Glendale abreast of the times."

Recent Sales

Recent activities in the realty market would indicate that the conservative investment seeker is looking towards Glendale. The following actual bona fide sales handled through Mr. Kelly's office of recent date will show that a spirit of optimism pervades Glendale: Sold for Elsie C. Sherman, 204 West Colorado, $23,000; sold for Moyse & Weaver, 237 South Orange, $16,000; sold for Stella E. Massey, lot on Central south of Los Feliz, $10,000; sold for Alma J. Danforth, 308 East Harvard, $13,000; sold for Mary G. Smith, 311 South Central, $16,000; sold for F. C. Butler, 444 West California, $7500; sold for H. A. Perkins, lot on Glendale boulevard, $5000.

The inquiries at Mr. Kelly's office speak well for renewed summer activity.

Latest Addition to City's Auto Industries Based On Observations

G. A. Henry and John Carl of Los Angeles have opened an auto body and fender repair shop at 122 West Colorado street. The shop was formally opened Monday morning, and both members of the new firm report good business.

The establishment of the shop here was based on the observations of Mr. Henry while working in similar plants in Los Angeles, where numerous jobs were received from Glendale motorists. Both men have had considerable experience in this kind of work and the shop is equipped to turn out high class work.

The two partners are confident they will find plenty of business in their chosen line in Glendale, and state all indications point to the need of an establishment of this nature in the city.

RENTER CHANGES TEN-YEAR HABIT

Pays for Landlord's House, Thinks Time Ripe to Buy One Himself

"A man recently came into our office, named Will I. Build, of Rentsville. He came all the way to Glendale to do his building, and to tell us a good story," says Donald R. Gillin, service manager of the Bentley Lumber Company.

"'I've been an habitual rentpayer for years, and have a stack of worthless rent receipts about two feet high,' he told us. 'They represent ten years of time at a cost nothing less than $50 per month. But now I've reformed, and I have been made to see the error of my ways. You have won me over to the Home Owner's class.

Buys Landlord Home

"'I've just finished paying for the home of my landlord; I could have been the proud possessor of my own home if I had followed such advice as your organization is giving to the people of Glendale who are not home owners, but would like to be. No, there is no objection if you tell my story to the world. I hope it will be a profitable story to some young man, a newly-wedded couple or a hard-headed, habitual rentpayer as myself.

"'Since I have made up my mind to sacrifice, and' hard-sled it till I am the possessor of my own home, I feel like a new man, and I'm going to have my new home today. I've come in to select a plan from your plan service, and talk over building problems.'

Six Thousand Dollars

"Think of it, folks!. Ten years at $50 per month, or $6000! Staggering amount! And yet there are many who are reading this story, who have been renters for a period of over twenty years, with no realization of the joys they have missed, as the owners of their own homes.

"Will I. Build has now changed his name. No longer will he collect a worthless pile of rent receipts. He made application today for a new name when he entered the office of the Bentley Lumber company, situated at 460 West Los Feliz road. In this office he selected the home of his dreams, and was placed in the hands of honest and honorable contractors, known to this organization, to complete his home of pride and joy. The new name of Mr. Will I. Build is I. Will Build."

Miss Marjorie A. Humbert Is Married to H. W. Davis At Home Ceremony

In the attractive bungalow home of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Humbert the nuptials of their daughter, Miss Marjorie A. Humbert and Howard Wayne Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis of Owensmouth, were celebrated last night, Tuesday, June 24, 1924.

Rev. H. I. Rasmus, Jr., associate pastor of the First Methodist church, was the officiant, reading the bridal service at 8:30 o'clock before a company of seventy relatives and friends.

The fireplace in the living room was banked with greenery. A delightful color combination was seen in the arrangements of coral gladioli and turquoise blue delphinium. Before this artistic background the bridal party stood for the ceremony.

Special Music

Miss Frances Kulp sang "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me" before the hour for the ceremony. She was accompanied by Mrs. Richard Coor-Pender of Los An-

MEMBERS SELECT EXECUTIVE BOARD

Six Men to Act In Advisory Capacity on Colorado Boulevard Work

An executive board of six men was elected by the members of the Colorado Improvement association at its meeting last night in the council chamber of the City hall to confer with the president in regard to all matters pertaining to the improvements yet to be completed on the street. Questions concerning the installation of street lights and sidewalks along the widened street were referred to the newly formed committee.

The members expressed the desire that a petition be circulated among property holders requesting that the city make a survey for the lights immediately. After a great deal of discussion on the type of standards to be installed, it was decided that the matter should remain open to further investigation subject to the will of the executive committee.

Patterson Resigns

The meeting was opened by J. M. Boland, president, and several communications were read, among which were resignations from Harvey C. Patterson, secretary and treasurer, who is traveling in the east, and Mr. Boland. Mr. Patterson's resignation was accepted, due to his absence, but that of the president was refused, and on motion of E. M. Grey, he was given a vote of confidence.

Although some dissatisfaction was expressed at the present condition of the paving, A. W. Hewitt, who acted as temporary secretary, reported that the National Paving company had not yet completed its work, and expressed the belief that it would be satisfactory. Co-operation between the executive committee and the paving company was urged.

Secretary Elected

A letter was read from the City Council requesting that a member be appointed to meet with representatives from other civic organizations for the discussion of arrangements for bond elections for the necessary civic improvements. R. W. Meeker was appointed by the president. A. W. Hewitt was elected permanent secretary-treasurer of the organiztaion.

Reports by E. M. Grey and Mr. Graham were to the effect that their committees had successfully completed the work of clearing the ten-foot strip condemned in order to widen the street, and the committees were discharged with a vote of gratitude.

The executive committee consists of Fred Dixon, J. N. Peterson, E. M. Grey, Robert Creyk, A. W. Hewitt and one other member to be appointed by Mr. Boland from the west side district. A large number of interested property holders attended the meeting.

Bombay, India, is to have automatic telephones.

PREDICTS CHANGE IN STREET BONDS

Return to Former System of Financing Improvement Work Is Seen

Predictions that the Glendale city authorities plan an early change in the method of financing street improvement work were voiced at the weekly board meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by John C. Sherer, city treasurer, when he contrasted the present system with that under which the city formerly operated.

Under the old system, said Mr. Sherer, the cost of the improvement was assessed against the individual pieces of property, under the provisions of the Vrooman act and the act of 1911, and bonds were issued against each individual piece of property. This method permitted the owner of the property, he claimed, to discharge the lien by the payment of the principal and interest of the bond against the property.

Bonds for District

Under the present system, based on the act of 1915, municipal bonds are issued against the entire assessment district which is affected and benefited by the improvement. In order to discharge the indebtedness against any particular piece of property now, said Mr. Sherer, it is necessary for the owner to pay his proportion of the amount of the bond and interest for the life of the bond. It is understood that any excess interest paid in this manner is to be refunded as the money accrues in the fund for the redemption of the bonds.

The principal argument in favor of the present method, Mr. Sherer declared, is that many bond buyers prefer to purchase municipal bonds, rather than bonds against individual pieces of property, but he also added that bonds issued under the Vrooman act have always found a ready market.

The city council, he declared, is willing to go back to the old system under the Vrooman act and the act of 1911.

President W. E. Hewitt referred the matter to the legislative committee with instructions to report at next Tuesday's meeting.

EXCESSIVE LAWS HARMFUL, CLAIM

Exchange Clubs of Nation Ask Less Legislation As Aid to People

Believing that state and national legislatures are passing hundreds of needless and harmful laws which cannot possibly be enforced, the Exchange club of Glendale, together with hundreds of other Exchange clubs throughout the United States devoted its regular meeting yesterday to a discussion of this situation.

Judge H. W. Chase, chairman of the legislative committee of the Glendale Exchange club, in speaking at the meeting held yesterday, said.

"Exchange clubs of the Pacific coast were responsible for the adoption by the National Exchange club of the following statement of policy.

"'Excessive law making is a national vice which has no defense and no defenders. The trend of public opinion is for fewer laws and stricter enforcement of those we now have in the statutes of the states and of the nation. Annually our legislatures grind out hundreds of new laws which are not and cannot be enforced, and which throw an additional burden upon the shoulders of the already overloaded taxpayer. The Exchange clubs of the United States are opposed to this unrestrained orgy of law making, and favor a harking back to the fundamental principles of democratic government.'

Brings Contempt

"It has been reported that the daily grist of municipal, state and national laws is considerably more than 100. It is contended that this amazing condition defeats the purpose of rational legislation and brings laws and law makers alike into deserved contempt.

"President Calvin Coolidge, a member of the Exchange club of Rutland, Vt., has on several occasions expressed his idea in no uncertain terms on the evil of 'Too Much Law Making.' Speaking before the American Bar association, the president said.

Appeal to People

"'It is time to supplement the appeal to law, which is limited, with an appeal to the spirit of the people, which is unlimited. Some unsettlements disturb, but they are temporary. Some factious elements exist, but they are small. No assessment of the material conditions of Americans can warrant anything but the highest courage and the deepest faith. No reliance upon the national character has ever been betrayed. No survey which goes below the surface can fail to discover a solid and substantial foundation for satisfaction.

"'Our countrymen must remember that they have and can have no dependence save themselves. Our institutions are their institutions. Our government is their government. Our laws are their laws. It is for them to enforce, support and obey. If in this they fail, there are none who can succeed. The sanctity of duly constituted tribunals must be maintained. Undivided allegiance to public authority must be required. With a citizenship which voluntarily establishes and defends these, the cause of America is secure. Without that all else is of little avail.'"

USE VACANT LAND

It seems poor business policy, in view of the high prices of lots and acreage in Southern California, to let so much ground go to waste, so to speak. If an acre under cultivation is worth $3000, the acre next to it should be of the same value, but if it is neglected and allowed to grow weeds it is not worth so much and the difference must be charged to poor management.

There is an inconsistency apparent in the condition that exists all over Southern California. Real estate is so high priced and yet so much of it is lying idle. Many big tracts have been opened, lots sold and homes built. But unsold lots and lots purchased for speculation are idle and weed-grown.

In Glendale there is a vast amount of land not being used and its neglect detracts from its value and from the value of surrounding property. It seems so incongruous that when a man wants to build a little home he must pay $1000 to $3000 for a small lot, in the face of so much land lying unused.

Of course this idle land will not disappear or be consumed. The owners are holding it for a purpose, perhaps waiting until water can be brought to it or for a still greater advance in the value of real estate. In many cases estates are in litigation and the land cannot be sold. But there is no reason why it should not be used. A man who had purchased an acre for speculative purposes offered it to another for use as a garden. This acre more than furnishes vegetables for both families and it is worth more under cultivation than if weed-grown.

During the war we were urged to raise vegetables on all our vacant land, and many people found gardening a pleasurable, healthful and profitable occupation. With the necessity for rigid economy removed we preferred to buy our vegetables.

Now that vacation is here it would be excellent work, for the boy who has no other job, to cultivate and raise a crop of vegetables on some of this unused land in or near Glendale. The out-door work and the experience would prove invaluable to the boy, the fresh vegetables would supply the family table or provide an income for the young farmer, and any kind of a crop would improve the appearance of the lot that is at present covered with weeds, and remove the danger of fire, as well. If you have not the time to cultivate your vacant land, offer it to some one who has.

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN

Glendale's method of handling motor traffic in the vicinity of schools has been highly complimented by motorists at home as well as those from out of town, who claim it is greatly superior to the plan used in Los Angeles. It provides equal or greater safety for the children and is much easier for the driver.

The legible, upright signs in use in Glendale are so much more easily seen and read than the signs painted on the pavement in Los Angeles, which some drivers fail to see at all.

In Los Angeles, lines on the pavement in front of schools mark a lane through which the children may pass and indicate that cars must come to a full stop there. If a driver is not giving a great deal of attention to watching for schools he may run over this mark and then, when he sees he is in front of a school, he may stop at the wrong place, causing confusion and the possibility of an accident. There is the same danger, too, when a car stops at the proper place, and the one coming behind him has not seen the stop sign. Of course it is a driver's business to see these signs, but watching for them takes his attention from his work, in a way, and anything that does that may be the cause of accident.

In Glendale the motorist is not required to come to a full stop. Large upright signs mark the eight-mile-an-hour zone which to all intents and purposes of safety equals a stop. The driver can see the sign easily at a distance, and it is much more convenient for him to slow down to eight miles than to come to a full stop and then start again. Of course if children are crossing the street he stops, and he can do so easily and with no danger of accident going at that slow speed. In Los Angeles the motorist is required to make the full stop when school is in session and no children or other pedestrians are in sight. So the Glendale method has the advantage of moving traffic faster than the Los Angeles plan.

No restrictions should be too severe for the motorist where the safety of a child is concerned, but when safety can be assured with the minimum of confusion and congestion of traffic, this method should be adopted.

LARGEST CORPORATION

The largest corporation doing business in Glendale is the municipal corporation, which governs the affairs of the city itself, a corporation with an investment of $2,521,385.89 in light and water equipment and $694,680.54 in general government assets, a total of $3,216,.066.43; and with a payroll of approximately $50,000 a month, to an average of 350 employes.

In view of the fact that consideration of the 1924-25 municipal budget was the most important business before the City Council at yesterday's session at the City Hall, a consideration of the affairs of this corporation of the people is opportune.

In May, 1924, total receipts of the municipal corporation of the city of Glendale were $323,430.96; total disbursements were $138,160.76; bank balance was $621,714.25. The payroll for the month was $49,041.10, with an average of 351 employes.

In May, 1923, total receipts of the corporation were $185,-914.65; total disbursements were $126,841.56; bank balance was $416,057.99. The payroll for the month was $34,548.66, with an average of 247 employes.

Thus it is seen that the general increased volume of business in May of this year over May a year ago is decided.

Nor were the months of May in the two years other than normal months. A check on the figures is had by considering the first five months of 1924, with those of 1923.

January to May, inclusive, 1924, total receipts of the municipal corporation of the city of Glendale were $1,167,032.05; total disbursements were $971,474.20. January to May, inclusive, 1923, total receipts of the corporation were $756,534.65; total disbursements were $608,481.30.

These figures serve not only to instill public confidence in the Glendale city government as it is now being conducted, but indicate beyond any argument the rapidity with which the city is growing.

Times change but little. From newspaper files twenty years old we learn that Los Angeles girls started an anti-kissing society and the boys issued this ultimatum: "No kisses, no buggy rides!"

Tremors

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There was a tremor upon the surface of the sea.

There is always a tremor. Typical of life, the waters are always moving, now slightly, and now violently.

A light makes its way upon the sea by tremors. There is the moon path at night. It is never straight, but wavers with the moving of the waters.

Heat, the scientists tell us, is a mode of motion. It, too, is a tremor. All heat is life, and cold is death.

The little boy, nestling in his father's arms, says, "What made you shudder, papa?"

"Oh, I just thought of something," he says.

So a thought is a tremor, and finds its way to the body.

What is the soul but the source of tremors?

It thrills with joy or with pain, and in either instance it extends its circles of waves to the outer world.

Love is a tremor. Only those souls vibrate which find souls of a kindred motion.

Life is a tremor. All living things move. While what we call life is in them they are mobile; when death occurs they are still.

Life is the only source of motion, for somehow it takes either the lack or the superabundancy of life to control motion.

An engine is useless without its engineer.

The history of mankind is a history of tremors with variations as the flux of life ascends and descends. There is no history for those peoples that have no vibrations. When the vibration is sharp and violent we have the great epochs of history.

The appearance of a great man now and then sets the whole world trembling. Homer, Dante and Shakespeare, who shall count the innumerable waves that they have set in motion? Have their lines not gone out to all the earth?

A man's worth is decided by his ability to set in motion those who are around him. No matter how great your thought, it is of no value unless it can set others into motion and perpetuate its vibrations.

Horoscope

Good and evil planetary influences contend today, according to astrology. Neptune and Mercury are in benefic aspect, while Uranus and Saturn are adverse.

It is a time to push publicity and advertising of every sort.

All the influences are most favorable to magazines and newspapers, which are to gain added influence.

Thinking will be encouraged by the direction of the stars at this time, but mental activities may be easily misdirected.

Much propaganda of a dangerous sort will be widely distributed and there may be many political misrepresentations as well as the interjection of foreign ideas of government.

Serious troubles may be expected from Portugal, while Spain is subject to an encouraging rule of the stars.

Seismic troubles and a tidal wave are indicated for the Mediterranean, while severe and sudden storms may be looked for in the United States.

This is read as not a favorable time for meetings that start friendships between men and women, for romance may be tinctured with deception.

Again there is a sinister sign for oil projects and oil speculation of many sorts.

The partial eclipse of the sun next month is read as unfavorable to the raising of grains. A scarcity of corn may be expected.

Saturn is in a place that is held to be of threatening import to the aged, many of whom will end their careers within the next month. The death of a former statesman widely known as an orator is prognosticated.

Persons whose birth date it is should be unusually careful about signing legal documents in the coming year. Business affairs should be satisfactory.

Children born on this day are likely to be quick, active and clever. It will be luckiest, if it sees the light before sundown.

TOO WARLIKE

Declaring that the National anthem is too warlike, Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, organizer of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, recently testified that she has spent $16,000 in an effort to delete the third stanza because of its attitude toward war.

Who's Who

The new president of France, M. Gaston Doumergue, has had a brilliant career.

He steps into the presidency of the republic from the president's chair in the Senate. He belongs to the democratic "left wing." Beginning as a colonial judge, he next became deputy from Nimes. He entered the Combes' cabinet as minister of commerce and held the same portfolio in the Sarrien and Clemenceau ministries.

In the Briand cabinet, in 1909, he was minister of instruction.

He had been a senator since 1910, when he was elected from the department of Gard, and from December 8, 1913, to June 2, 1914, he was premier.

When Mrs. Elizabeth P. Martin of Philadelphia was appointed chairman of the committee on permanent arrangements of the Republican National convention it was the first time in the history of the Republican party that a woman had been selected for such an important post. Her appointment is another indication of the growing respect for the voting power of the women in national politics.

Mrs. Martin has been closely identified with the women's organization of the Republican party in Pennsylvania headed by Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton. She was the unanimous choice of the Pennsylvania Republican organization for delegate-at-large to the national convention in Cleveland.

Mrs. Martin is a Philadelphian and wife of Judge J. Willis Martin, of the municipal court of Philadelphia. She has been very prominent in civic, philanthropic and women's club movements in the state of Pennsylvania.

Today's Poem

WANDERLUST

Beyond the east the sunrise, beyond the west the sea,
And east and west the wanderlust that will not let me be;
It works in me like madness, dear, to bid me say good-bye!
For the seas call and the stars call, and oh, the call of the sky.

I know not where the white road runs, nor what the blue hills are,
But man can have the sun for friend, and for his guide a star;
And there's no end of voyaging when once the voice is heard,
For the river calls and the road calls, and oh, the call of a bird!

Yonder the long horizon lies, and there by night and day
The old ships draw to home again, the young ships sail away;
And come I may, but go I must, and if men ask you why,
You may put the blame on the stars and the sun and the white road and the sky.

—Gerald Gould.

Good Old Days, Then And Now

Although the aim of the Christian church is the same now as when it was founded, nearly 2000 years ago, this institution has made great strides in the last generation; there have been many changes in methods, and new responsibilities have been assumed by the church in that period.

Take the church building of forty years ago and compare it with the highly efficient plant of today. Then the church usually consisted of one room, more or less austere in appearance, with lofty ceiling, straight, uncomfortable pews, high, narrow windows, and the building surmounted by a belfry and a spire. There may or may not have been a carpet on the floor, cushions on the pews and stained glass in the windows. The pews faced an alcove, where there were seats for the choir. There was a pulpit and an old-fashioned pedal organ. A piano was thought to be unsuited for church use and only the largest and wealthiest city churches could afford pipe organs. There was a volunteer choir, or, perhaps, one man or woman, to lead the singing.

There was a Sunday school, of course, with all the classes holding sessions in this same room. The teachers, though willing and devout, were not trained for their work as they are today. There was a society of young people, that met to study the Bible, and on Wednesday nights, the faithful few huddled in one corner of this bare, bleak room for the weekly prayer meeting.

The church preached and taught the Gospel, and there its duty to the community ended. It took no part in the community life. There were church socials, but they were money-making affairs, and not held because there was any feeling of responsibility for the social life of the young people.

The church today is quite different. It is considered fitting that the House of God should be beautiful inside and out, and that there should be comfort and luxury in His house at least equal to that in the homes of the people. Every provision is made in the building of the modern church for efficiency in carrying on the work. There are class rooms for the Sunday school with equipment suitable for the age of the children, and there are teachers especially trained for the work. There are comfortable, cozy rooms for the smaller meetings. There is the best in music, usually a pipe organ or a good piano, and a choir of trained singers. The business of such an organization requires attention, and there is provision made for a secretary and a study for the minister. There may be a fully-equipped kitchen and banquet room, too, for the church takes an all-the-week interest in its members, especially the young.

The church takes the attitude that anything that threatens the moral and spiritual life of the people is the concern of the church, and so there is activity in community work and in politics.

Some people think the church should confine itself to preaching the Gospel. But the church is the only agency in the world that is fighting the forces of evil, and it has every right to attack the enemy from every possible angle. The advance of the church has been necessary and consistent.

Free Two Prisoners On Bond; Others Held

George R. Wilson and Charles W. Hilton of Glendale, two of the prisoners charged with a series of robberies and other crimes in this city and Burbank, were released from Glendale police headquarters yesterday afternoon on production of $2000 property bail each by their parents.

Norman McRae of Burbank, alleged ringleader of the gang, has been sent to the county jail, along with Arthur Armstrong of Burbank, said to be another member of the gang.

Other alleged members of this gang, among them Geraldine McGowan of Burbank, aged 15 years, are being held by the Burbank police. Trial of the principals in this case has been set for 2 o'clock the afternoon of Wednesday, July 2, in the Glendale police court of Judge Frank H. Lowe.

Conductor Ready for Symphony Rehearsals

Alfred Hertz, famous San Francisco maestro, is in readiness for the opening of the "symphonies under the stars," and will begin rehearsal this week of the ninety-piece orchestra.

Mr. Hertz is also anticipating devoting two mornings each week to a contest for young singers, pianists and violinists from 15 to 25 years of age. The winner in each group will be presented as soloist with the Bowl orchestra.

Free afternoon concerts for children will be given on alternate Wednesdays beginning July 16.

An advance in the price of season tickets for the Bowl concerts is announced for July 15 by Mrs. J. J. Carter.

DIVINE HERITAGE LECTURER'S TOPIC

Christian Science Speaker Delivers Address at Glendale Church

Dr. Walton Hubbard, C. S. B. of Los Angeles, last night delivered a lecture in the First Church of Christ Scientist, Maryland and California avenues, Glendale, on "Our Divine Inheritance." Dr. Hubbard said in part:

"Christian Science is a religion of demonstration—of works. It is the law of God, and it was in explanation of this law that Christ Jesus taught, and by the application of this Science that he healed the sick and the sinning. Either his work was according to divine law or it was not. It was either lawful or lawless. As a matter of record, he stated in various forms that his work was according to God's law. He said that he came to do the will of his Father and the will of God is divine law.

In Image of God

"Now Christian Science teaches that man is the manifestation of his Maker. The Bible in the passage declaring that God made man in His image, after His likeness, is stating an inevitable conclusion. God could not make man unlike Himself, and man must express the divine nature and character. The product is always like the source from which it proceeds. The effect is always according to the law which caused it.

"The most satisfying term for God is Love. One of the most beautiful things about Jesus' ministry is his teaching of the fact that God is Love, but how shall we define Love? Man has defined his highest human sense of love as that quality which causes one to appreciate, delight in, and crave the presence of its object, and to promote the welfare of that object. Infinite Love appreciates and delights in its perfect man and promotes his welfare. Divine Love is infinite peace and harmony and goodness. Every desirable thing is included in divine Love."

OPENING DATE OF NEW RESORT SET

Big Tujunga Lodge Nearing Completion, Ready on Fourth of July

Work on Big Tujunga Lodge, the summer resort that is being constructed by J. R. Thorpe, proprietor of the Oakmont Saddle Stables, at the upper end of Big Tujunga canyon, has progressed so far that Mr. Thorpe has been able to set the date for the formal opening on July 4, when accommodations for fifty people will be ready.

One of the features of the camp is the big concrete plunge, 60x100 feet, which is now completed, and work has already started on another pool, where the children who are staying at the Lodge may play in the water. The children's pool will vary from one to two and one-half feet in depth, and a plashing fountain erected in the middle of it will bring the water from a reservoir fed by mountain springs.

Outdoor Dancing

The outdoor dance floor, cement with a wax finish is also ready, and Mr. Thorpe is planning to install a powerful radio set, over which the music of the orchestras in several of the big Los Angeles hotels will be available for those who are dancing at the Lodge. The dance floor is situated under the spreading trees, close to the swimming pool, and the cool breezes of the canyon render this one of the most delightful amusements that is furnished at the camp.

For those guests who desire to ride horseback, Mr. Thorpe has fifteen head of saddle horses, and the riding ring, 100x225 feet, permits the novice to learn how to ride before he attempts to try the mountain trails that radiate in every direction from the Lodge.

Road Improved

Some of the tent cottages are already finished, and the work on the others is being rushed as rapidly as possible. The county road gangs have been working on the road into the canyon for the past month and are improving it along the twelve miles that separate the Lodge from Michigan boulevard.

The water supply at the camp, Mr. Thorpe says, is better than that at many other similar resorts, as the many small streams that rise at the head of the canyon afford a plentiful supply of clear, pure water for every purpose.

Eight Weddings Lead To Long Prison Term

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—The "love 'em and leave 'em" matrimonial tactics of Carl E. Cody, 30, a pugilist, who confessed to having taken unto himself eight wives since 1919, brought upon him a maximum sentence of 20 years in San Quentin on bigamy charges, when application for probation was denied by Judge Russ Avery.

Although Cody had pleaded guilty several months ago to having led two blushing brides to the altar, the complete personnel of his octuple wife list was not revealed until today when he remembered an additional six wives or so while being questioned during the hearing on the probation application.

FIGURES REVEAL MENACE OF FIRE

Burning Brush and Rubbish Cause Most Alarms to Local Department

The menace from brush and rubbish fires was emphasized last night in the report of Director P. J. Hayselden of the fire prevention and flood control committee of the Chamber of Commerce, when he submitted figures to show that the greater number of fire alarms answered by the Glendale fire department in May were caused by this means.

Out of eighteen alarms answered during May, eight were brush fires and eight were rubbish fires, the report showed, and figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, showed that, out of a total of 229 alarms, 114 were due to brush and rubbish fires. Garages and gasoline stations, Mr. Hayselden stated, that are usually regarded as one of the most serious causes of fires, called for the fire department only ten times during the year, nine times to garages and once to a gasoline station.

A meeting to organize the proposed Glendale branch of the Angelus Forest Protective association has been called by W. J. Curren, chairman of the committee, and will be held Saturday night at the Chamber of Commerce, when it is planned to enlist at least 100 men, divided into units of ten men each under the leadership of ten competent firefighters. Director George H. Bentley was appointed to head the Chamber of Commerce unit that is to be formed.

Suicide Is Sequel to Shooting, Is Theory

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The theory that the accidental shooting of a friend caused another man to commit suicide was advanced as a theory by the police today to account for the mysterious death of Joseph M. General Sawyer Goes Inglewood's Example Help Prevent Fires Need For Tolerance

By Gil A. Cowan

Almost unnoticed in the maelstrom of political palaver, two paragraphs yesterday told of Brig.-Gen. Charles E. Sawyer retiring as President Coolidge's personal physician. He will take up the work of erecting a memorial to Warren G. Harding.

It seems strange how one by one the old personal friends of the late publisher-president are passing into oblivion. Perhaps they were not politicians of the highest calibre, but depended on the personality of W. G. to carry them along into high position.

Sawyer, like Daugherty and Forbes, was subject to severe attack. He was, to a large extent, responsible for the Veterans' bureau muddle, although Forbes received the lion's share of the blame.

So now, after the storm has blown over we read of Sawyer retiring to Marion, Ohio.

Inglewood has set an example for Glendale. Vacant lots must be cleaned within the next thirty days, according to an edict of the former's city Board of Trustees.

In times such as these, when labor is plentiful for the work, there is no need for Southern California being the least bit untidy.

Clean and orderly premises add value to a business or a city.

Forest flames once again menace one of the west's playgrounds—a national park. Campers and tourists should be careful with fire and matches.

In view of the catastrophic blaze near Glendale late last summer it is well to be forewarned and forearmed. Help prevent fire.

Now is the time for Americans to promote friendly feelings with Japan. There is no natural enmity and the exclusion act must not be considered as derogatory to the Orientals, but simply an economic situation. Of course, the unassimilability of the races entered into the question, but that is something for God Almighty to figure out in His divine wisdom.

No aspersions should be cast upon Chinese or Japanese or Hindus. They should not be subjected to any indignities and their rights should be protected insofar as personal liberty guaranteed under the constitution of these United States is concerned.

Also, there should be no "martyring" of the I. W. W. in this southland. Any organization which thinks it can transcend law and order with mob rule is as misguided fundamentally as the I. W. W. or anarchist.

The writer is in accord with the criminal syndicalism law, enforced with equity and justice. There is no need for sabotage or revolution in this country. Neither is there the necessity for persecuting people for their peculiar beliefs.

Tolerance should be an American trait.

It would cure many evils.

Pasadena Elks Hold Picnic in Mountains

TUJUNGA, June 25.—One hundred and fifty members of the B. P. O. Elks of Pasadena and their friends and families Sunday gathered at Wildwood Lodge, Big Tujunga canyon resort, for their annual picnic.

A program that included races and other outdoor sports was carried out in the afternoon, and dancing was enjoyed in the evening.

Safety Gong Placed At Busy Intersection

To assure the greatest safety at the city's busiest corner, Broadway and Brand, a large alarm bell has been installed by the city, to be rung when fire engines from the Broadway station are answering an alarm. At the sound of the big gong motorists near the intersection are warned to pull up at the curb and remain there until the engines pass.

$971,000,000 Annual Outlay for Furniture

RICHMOND, Va., June 25.—Alvin E. Dodd, manager of domestic distribution for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, said that today the people spend $971,000,000 annually for furniture. This is 4 per cent of what they pay for all commodities, he said.

LEGION TO HELP BONUS REQUESTS

Adjutant of Glendale Post Receives Blanks to File Application

Application blanks for a bonus under the adjusted compensation act have been received by Adjutant E. E. McWain of the local American Legion post No. 127 and ex-service men can call at the Legion headquarters any time this week to fill out their blanks, he states. The Legion officials will assist each man in filling out his petition and will keep a complete record of each case handled.

The applications have arrived several weeks sooner than they were expected, as it had been reported that none would be available until after July 15. One thousand blanks have been received by the local post and it is thought that close to that number will apply for compensation from this locality. All the details of the compensation work will be handled by the Legion and the officials request that no one seek information from other sources as it will not be authentic.

Who Can Apply

Those who served in the world war up to and including the rank of captain in the army or marine corps, lieutenant in the navy, first lieutenant or first lieutenant of engineers in the coast guard, or assistant surgeon in the health service are privileged to make application. The nearest relative or foster parent of a deceased veteran should make application. The applicant should take his discharge papers to headquarters with him.

McWain requests that those desiring information phone his office rather than calling in person as he expects the Legion headquarters to be crowded with those making out applications. The adjutant's office is in the Legion hall at 610-A East Broadway.

Hold Conference Over Electrical Reduction

mends that the city be divided into districts and that notice be served on every user of electricity, showing the need of saving power, and that supervisors should be appointed to cut down the lights wherever they are being used to excess. The fact that parks and stores and theatres in Los Angeles are running with their full complement of lights, said Mr. Cowan, is causing many persons to question the fairness of the orders that Glendale must be forced to economize while other cities are apparently running full blast. The point should be made clear, he contended, that many other cities are supplied with power from their own city plants, and are not taking electricity from the Southern California Edison company.

Representatives of the local theatres were present and stated that they are running slides at every show urging economy and that they are cutting down their own power consumption to the minimum. H. A. Albright of the T. D. & L. urged that four-minute speakers be employed to explain the situation.

Would Hurt Business

The shutting off of the lights on the principal business streets, said W. A. Howe, manager of the Glendale theatre, would tend to injure the entire business community of Glendale by giving the impression that Glendale is a "dead town," as compared with other cities where the lights are kept burning.

Cutting off the residence supply for thirty minutes daily was advocated by L. H. Wilson, and in this he was supported by H. M. Butts, who stated that it was absurd to cut out the lights in the business section entirely.

W. J. Curren, contractor, favored at least a 50 per cent cut in residence lighting during the period of the shortage, and W. T. Gilliam, 222 South Brand boulevard, also stressed the importance of making it clear that other cities that are maintaining their regular lighting schedule are doing so with juice supplied from their own plants.

Urges Saving In Homes

The impossibility of reducing the voltage to any appreciable degree by the installation of more transformers and thus effecting additional savings was brought out by Mr. Diederich in answer to questions by Director Lyman P. Clark.

J. F. Springer, manager of the Glendale Laundry, favored economy in the residence districts as well as every possible saving in the conduct of industrial plants and other business places.

The board voted to place the matter squarely up to the City Council at a special meeting this morning, with the request that the city officials send out copies of the letter received from the State Railroad commission and another of similar tenor from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, ordering the residents of Glendale to reduce their light consumption at once by at least 25 per cent.

$1500, to cover the six-months' campaign, would be sought. The matter was laid over until next week. A check for $250 has already been sent Mr. Stuart in payment of his account, following the action of the Board of Control in voting to allow him one month's salary for the work he had done.

Eleven inquiries have already been received as the result of the first advertisement to be run in one of the Los Angeles dailies.

Postpone Survey Action

The proposed industrial survey of Glendale was laid over, following a report by Director Frank L. Fox, who stated that the expert whom it was planned to employ at a salary of $50 a week had asked $75 a week and running expenses for his automobile. The proposal as originally submitted to the Chamber of Commerce stated that the surveyor's salary would be $50, and a special fund was raised on this basis to pay for the survey.

Prospects for a new bridge across the Los Angeles river at Ivanhoe Hills, south of Glendale, were declared by Director Hayselden to be bright, following the statement by Supervisor Henry W. Wright that the sum of $140,000 can be made available from some funds at present on hand, for this purpose. While this sum would not cover the cost of a new bridge, Mr. Hayselden stated that an effort would be made to secure sufficient additional fund to carry the project through.

President Hewitt reported that progress on the sewer system should be under way at an early date, as a consequence of the action of the Los Angeles City Council in specifying in official resolutions the streets through which the system is to be laid. The same action, Mr. Hewitt stated, must be taken by the Glendale City Council.

Finance Corporation

D. A. Johnston, sales manager for the Standard Union Finance corporation of Los Angeles, outlined the methods followed by his company in helping to finance business firms to secure money to meet their bills and to develop their business. The industrial committee will investigate the system and the personnel of the company and will report at an early date.

Reports on the activity of the industrial committee were submitted by Julius Kranz, and L. T. Rowley reported on the recent meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley.

T. W. Watson, Realtor, Speaks on Taxation

the state pays about 20 per cent. For every pupil the state pays $30, and the average daily attendance multiplied by $30, is what the community gets from the state.

"In Los Angeles county we have an assessed valuation of one billion dollars, and the assessed valuation of the city of Los Angeles is one billion dollars; and we raised here last year $60,000,000. Of that amount $30,000,000 went to the schools and a like amount to other purposes.

"When you have property for sale there is a question who shall pay the taxes. Taxes become a lien on the first Monday in March, and if on the second day I sell the property, I am 'stuck' for the taxes for the coming year, although you are in possession of the property. Taxes are figured in sales from July 1 to July 1. Then if you sell a property on the first day of October you pay 3-12 of the taxes.

"All taxes on personal property which is not secured must be paid in March. If it is secured over half must be paid by the first Monday in December. On the next June, if your taxes are not paid, the property will be sold for taxes to the state, and if not redeemed in five years it is then deeded to the state and the state then sells the property."

Mr. Watson showed the wide variety that exists between the tax laws of the various states, and called attention to the rapidly increasing amount of property that is escaping taxation every year in this country, the amount of which is now estimated at fifty-four billion dollars, or almost one-fifth of the national wealth.

GOTHAM SUBWAYS LOSING REVENUE

Income From 5-Cent Fare Is Not Sufficient to Pay Interest on Bonds

NEW YORK, June 25.—Whether they believe it or realize it or not, the citizens of New York are going to give practically every convention visitor a present next week; that is, everyone who rides on subway cars. They are going to get part of their rides for nothing. They will have to pay their nickels at the turnstiles but those nickels do not pay the cost of their rides. The difference is practically presented to them out of the pockets of the New York taxpayers.

According to the records of the transit commission, the 5-cent fare produces a revenue which is insufficient to pay interest on the municipal bonds issued to pay for building the subways by between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000. This deficit the taxpayers have to make good. The average excess cost is about one cent per passenger.

The city issued bonds for construction of interborough lines to such an extent that its net interest costs are more than one-half of one per cent per year per passenger carried. The city's appropriation for construction of the Brooklyn Manhattan company's lines involved interest charges of 1.24 cents per year per passenger.

Transfer Points

The convention visitors may get part of their rides free on the surface cars but not at the expense of the taxpayers. Nominally, a 5-cent fare exists on the surface lines but with a few exceptions the 5-cent rides are restricted to the borough limits of each of the five boroughs. There is no general grant of free transfers within the limits of any particular surface system and there are 280 points in Manhattan alone where a 2-cent transfer charge is made while 340 former transfer points have been abolished. In Brooklyn, 1584 free transfer points have been eliminated and 212 2-cent transfer points set up. A flat rate of 8 cents is charged in the borough of Richmond.

In spite of this, the companies as a whole are not operating at a profit. The combined deficit of Rapid Transit and Surface Lines is running at between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 a year. On one road, the Brooklyn City railroad, the rearrangement of transfer privileges has resulted in operations at a profit. In 1923 the company which has a profitable short haul business, issued only 14,000,000 transfers on a total traffic of about 237,000,000 passengers, whereas in 1919, 78,500,000 transfers were issued on a traffic of 171,000,000 riders.

In the suburban districts about New York the traction companies have also been having difficult problems to meet and some have threatened discontinuance of operations or put the threat into effect. Domestic servants in Scarsdale struck when the village authorities refused to sanction an increase from 6 to 10 cents in fares and the service was discontinued. Property owners made vigorous protest and compelled the village authorities to rescind their action.

At Silver Lake, N. Y., authorities also refused to sanction a similar increase. When cessation of street car service seemed certain, cottagers began to move out. Property owners and landlords made vigorous protest to the village board and succeeded in having them nullify their decision.

Forty thousand daily riders in Queens county facing discontinuance of one line have petitioned New York city authorities asking that the company be allowed to increase fares above the 5-cent limit.

At any rate, all the out-of-town visitors to the Democratic national convention are expected to take at least one ride on the subway, if for no other reason than to enjoy the unique experience of receiving something for nothing in New York.

Governor to Appoint Chiropractic Board

SACRAMENTO, June 25.—Appointment of a new state board of chiropractic examiners, succeeding the board ousted from office by court order some months ago, is pending, it was said in the capitol today.

The new board will be selected from eligibles submitted to Governor Richardson by the State Chiropractic Society and the Federated Chiropractors of California. All the members of the new board will be licentiates of the ousted board as the law requires that after the first examiners have been named, their successors must be chosen from practitioners holding licenses from the chiropractic board, rather than any other medical group. Although the original board was found to be holding office illegally, licenses issued by the board before its removal are valid, the court holding that they constituted a de facto board.

It is understood that Dr. Frank B. Whidden of Sacramento, prominent in the chiropractic initiative fight, will head the new board of examiners.

The ousted board licensed 280 chiropractors and approximately 2,000 applications for licenses have been held up pending appointment of its successor.

Survey Shows Trade Conditions Only Fair

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—General conditions in this territory are only fair, according to a survey by one of the leading banks and trust companies. However, the smaller cities of Missouri, Southern Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, reflect a most optimistic attitude. The condition of the states in which cotton is grown is superior to those of states where wheat is the main crop.

The continuation of high labor costs in the building business is tending to check construction to some extent. Contracts for buildings entered into in Missouri in the last month have been 6.8 per cent under those of the previous monthly period. Dry goods and apparel dealers are cutting prices to stimulate sales.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

"Dear Doctor Peters:—Sweet must be the voice of those who return to give thanks! After two and one-half years of patient dieting and exercising, I have at last left the F. F. F.'s for the S. S. S.'s (Smiling Slim Sorority), having taken off about 47 pounds and descended to a point two pounds above my ideal weight by the Life Insurance Tables, which give me eight pounds less than your estimate. So I feel I have done very well; and Eve never rejoiced more over that rib Adam gave her than I do in re-discovering my own.

"By the way, why do you use the term "Friendly Fat Fraternity?" There are more fat women than men; and they are not friendly—especially to anyone who has the character to reduce, which they lack. Fat people seem to me depressed and depressing. The old adage ought to read: Laugh and grow fat—and you'll never laugh afterwards!

"It takes character to enable one to reduce; and then one is in for life, for a modified dieting must continue. No Christian should be fat, for it certainly is caused by gluttony, a mortal sin.

—Mrs. M. B."

Fat people as a rule are friendly. When, of course, they are so fat that they are really diseased, then they are depressing undoubtedly; and when they are so fat that it has gone to their heads and they don't want to reduce, then they certainly are irritating. I remember once speaking to a friend of mine about her dieting in order to reduce, and she said she had other things of more importance to think of, and I said to myself: "Yes, 'when do we eat?' takes first place." I have called that state adiposis cephalicus. The literal meaning of the term is "fat head." I'll write an article on that some day.

Overweight is not always caused by gluttony. A very small amount over the daily needs will cause an accumulation of considerable fat during the year, and still that person who accumulated it could not be said to be gluttonous. So we will have to excuse some of them, Mrs. B., for it is caused by their not having a knowledge of the calories, or food values. I congratulate you on your good results and thank you for the new set of initial letters.

Mrs. M.—If the trouble in your husband's joints is not caused by an acute infection or absorption of poisons from some chronic infection, it may be caused by absorption of poisons from a sluggish intestinal tract. Have him go on an exclusive buttermilk diet, or some artificial acidified milk (such as you can buy in the drug-stores) and some dates, for three or four days. Have him take a dozen dates and two or three glasses of the buttermilk at the meal, or take less and take them oftener.

This diet will change the intestinal flora so that the putrefactive bacteria will be killed off. When he begins to eat again, have him include liberal amounts of vegetables, especially green leaf vegetables, and fruit, and still continue the buttermilk or milk. The raw food diet is also beneficial in these cases. Take nothing but raw foods and some nuts for their protein. An exclusive fruit diet is also good.

Creaky joints show that there is a lack of lubricating fluid in the joints. This is probably due to a chronic inflammation. This condition also might clear up on the same diet. Chronic inflammatory rheumatism will also be beneficial.

Mrs. J.—Read the answer to Mrs. M. above. Your husband must have a thorough physical examination to find out the cause of his cough. Whatever the cause is, of course, he must have an adequate balanced diet, including three or four glasses of milk, liberal helpings of vegetables, especially the green leaf vegetables, salads and fruits and the whole-grain breads and cereals. We have an article on Tuberculosis you may have, by enclosing s. a. s. e. with your request.

Mrs. F.—The tiny, painful red growth you have at the mouth of the urethra (tube leading from the bladder) is probably a CARUNCLE—not as the final reprint had it, a "carbuncle." Caruncles usually have to be removed surgically.

How to Can Blackberries, Blueberries, Currants and Raspberries: Pick over the berries, wash and stem. Put them into hot, sterilized glass jars (that is, jars which have been boiled, empty, in clear water for 15 minutes, with their glass caps) and fill the jars to within one-half inch of tops with a medium-thin sirup made by boiling three cups of sugar and two cups of water together for four minutes, counting after it begins to simmer briskly. Partially seal the jars (that is, put up top wire but do not press down side wire) and stand them on a rack or on a thickly folded cloth in your wash-boiler canner in water which rises almost to jar-tops. Let this water boil around the jars for 16 minutes, then remove from canner, completely seal, label, and store in a dark place. (Note: These soft berries require no blanching).

Raspberry-Apple Jam — Pure and core four pounds of ripe apples, cut them in thin slices and place these slices in your preserving kettle with three pounds of sugar and two cups of cold water. Place on the range, bring to a boil, cook briskly for 15 minutes, then add two pounds of raspberries and let simmer over reduced heat till it jellies; when two drops will form on the edge of a spoon, when a little of the jam is raised high in the air and dripped back into the kettle, the jelly point has been reached. Turn at once into hot, sterilized jelly glasses, let cool, then cover with melted paraffine. (An old coffee pot is an excellent utensil to melt the paraffine in, as it can be picked up without fear of burning the hands.) To keep the jelly glasses hot after sterilization, wrap them in towels wrung out of boiling water.

Raspberry Cream Jam — Put into your preserving kettle two cups of red currants and seven pounds of granulated sugar, bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly, then add six pounds of picked ripe raspberries and continue to boil for about 20 minutes—or till the jelly point is reached as above described. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover down when cool.

Blackberry — Apple Jelly — Mash ripe blackberries and simmer them without water or sugar till tender, then drain juice through a jelly bag. Quarter two quarts of apples, barely cover with water, and boil till tender, then also strain this juice through a jelly bag. Combine one cup of apple juice, one cup of blackberry juice, and two cups of sugar and let cook to the jelly stage, then turn into jars as above directed.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

BEAUTIFYING OUTDOOR FADS

Once when I was a child I spent a summer with a kind-hearted aunt in the country. She gave me and her two daughters tiny plots of ground to cultivate as our own. The practical minded cousin went in for good solid vegetables, I remember, and the artistic one for a wild riot of flowers. I'm afraid I never cultivated much but weeds and morning glories.

I love the results of gardening, but I dislike the effort, the odd insects and worms I was apt to meet and the feel of caked mud drying on my hands. So, though I dutifully remind my readers several times a summer that gardening makes for beauty of complexion and body as well as beauty of landscape and mind, I do it, I am afraid, in a half-hearted manner.

Yet the woman who is tied to her home most of the day will find that cultivating even the tiniest garden will give her the greatest benefit. Most of us need more sun than we get, more sun exposure, I mean. Doing a little daily garden work in some loose, light sleeveless dress, so that as much of the body as possible will get the sun, will kill lurking disease germs, build up a reserve of energy and directly benefit looks and health. Choose a time when the sun is hot, but not at the exhausting heat of midday.

If you're not tied all day to your home, try to fix up an outdoor gymnasium, or join a tennis club; if you can't do any better, set up a croquet set or a clock golf outfit on your lawn. Plan your vacation so you can swim and lie about in the sun and alternate with vigorous long walks. We need air and outdoor exercise and rest; few of us get enough of any of these.

Ruth—As there is nothing wrong with you physically you should not find it hard to build up your health at this season of the year. Get out into the air a great deal of the time, play tennis or any other game in which you get exercise and the exhilaration from the game itself. This will bring the needed appetite, and also the ability to digest the food. Ten extra pounds will make a great difference in you, and when you attain this you will be normal weight, and likely in perfect health and strength.

Gertrude B.—As you are only 16 years of age, you will grow for three or four years.

Tomorrow—When You Feel Plain

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be asnwered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

NOMINATIONS AT CONVENTION TODAY

Big Demonstration Results When McAdoo's Name Is Presented

but was stopped by B. L. Jefferson of Denver, and a fight ensued. A dozen men were struggling for its possession. The floor represented a riotous scene for fully fifteen minutes.

The anti-Klan states went around the hall cheering madly and exhorting those who refused to join in to "come on."

Convention Under Way

The convention made speed today toward clearing the decks of all preliminaries to the adoption of a platform and the nomination of candidates.

Despite the intense heat of Madison Square Garden, the convention officials decided to push ahead and, if possible, get all of the routine oratory out of the way today, including the speeches placing a dozen candidates in nomination.

Meeting at 11 o'clock, the convention quickly got all routine matters disposed of, listened to an hour's speech by Senator Walsh of Montana, as permanent chairman, and then plunged ahead with the business of nominating.

Despite the evident desire of some delegates to adjourn for lunch, Chairman Walsh ordered the roll call for presentation of names of candidates, and Alabama led off with Senator Oscar Underwood. His nominating speech was made by Forney Johnston of Birmingham.

Make Nominations

The presentation of his name was followed by the presentation of Senator Joseph T. Robinson's name by former Governor Brough of Arkansas. Arkansas led a mild demonstration for the senator when Brough finished. There was considerable delay after the presentation of Robinson's name, the reason for which was not apparent.

At 2:40 p. m. Walsh began pounding his gavel and ordered the delegates to their seats.

During the wait the McAdoo forces in the convention distributed about the hall several hundred flags carrying the picture of a girzzly bear and bearing the words "California republic." These were for use when McAdoo's name was presented.

Demonstration Starts

California was called and the small, dapper figure of Ex-Senator James D. Phelan came to the platform to formally place McAdoo in nomination. All the McAdoo states waved their flags and yelled.

It was several minutes before Phelan could begin his oration. The demonstration was led by the California and Georgia delegations, North Carolina, Kentucky, Texas and parts of other states.

Iowa apparently had been overlooked in the distribution of the flags, so E. T. Meredith, one of the McAdoo lieutenants, went out and got a supply. But the demonstration was over and Phelan's speech was begun before they had a chance to use them.

California Prepares

The California delegates were busy preparing for a demonstration while Phelan talked. Two young women dressed in white and carrying cornets were given seats on the floor. A handsome miss of about 15 garbed in a dress resembling a flag was also given a seat with the coast delegation.

Purple scarfs were passed around by the California delegation. The activities of the McAdoo lieutenants apparently displeased Senator Walsh. Interrupting Phelan's speech, Walsh rapped for order. Looking at the California delegation, many of whom were on their feet, he said:

"Please let us have order. Let us conduct ourselves with the dignity that we should on this occasion." The California McAdoo workers immediately sat down.

Big Noise Begins

As soon as Phelan "named his man" the McAdoo forces launched an immediate and well-organized demonstration. The California delegation unfurled a great banner, stating "California for Wilson in 1916—McAdoo in 1924." Four women cornetists dressed in white silk appeared as if by magic and started tooting around the aisles, led by the California delegation. Others dropped in.

A college cheer leader, armed with a megaphone, and wearing a huge picture of McAdoo, appeared on the stage and exhorted the marchers to further efforts.

A pretty little girl, dressed in a costume of red, white and blue, next appeared on the scene, carried on the shoulders of two husky young men. She waved a flag and yelled for McAdoo.

Near Fight Starts

California led the McAdoo procession, which consisted of Florida, Nevada, Tennessee, Virginia, New Mexico, Iowa, Kentucky, Connecticut, Montana, South Carolina, North Carolina, North and South Dakota, and the few McAdoo men in the Pennsylvania and Illinois delegations took in the banners of those states.

In the Colorado delegation a near fight was started. Governor William E. Sweet tried to take the banner of that state into the swinging tide of marchers, but the Smith men in the delegation prevented him from doing it, and in the struggle the name card was taken out of the rack and held by the anti-McAdoo men, so that it could not be taken in the march.

New York stood fast, as did Kansas, New Jersey, Wiscor'sin, Michigan, Rhode Island, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Massachusetts, Virginia, West Virginia and Indiana.

Kept Pepped Up

Outsiders got into the demonstration and the aisles were filled to the point of sardine-packing. There were many who wore no badges of any sort. Where they came from was somewhat of a mystery.

The McAdoo floor managers kept moving about the floor, keeping the marchers pepped up.

The Colorado delegation, which has staged two fights today, finally solved the problem of keeping its banner out of the roughhouse shows by stationing a guard of four men around it and reaching a mutual agreement that Colorado is not to join in any demonstrations except by unanimous agreement.

Mrs. Mary Kelty, a delegate at large from Denver, became slightly hysterical during the struggle in the Colorado delegation, and sobbed.

After the demonstration had gone on for about fifteen minutes and showed signs of lagging somewhat, the McAdoo floor managers, David L. Rockwell of Ohio; Breckenridge Long of Missouri; Dan Roper of North Carolina and Tom Love of Texas took the platform and urged the sweltering "boys" on the floor to go to it.

A young woman dressed in flaring yellow, Miss Margery Day of California, dashed up to the speakers' platform, mounted to the speakers' platform, climbed the reading desk and proceeded to tell the world she was for McAdoo.

PROTEST STREET WIDENING PLANS

Property Owners Petition Trustees In Proposed Boulevard Work

BURBANK, June 25.—A petition of protest against the proposed widening of San Fernando boulevard between Palm avenue and Benmar Hills has been filed with the City Trustees, signed by nineteen property holders. According to H. B. Lind of the Burbank Finance company, who has been very actively promoting the widening of the boulevard, these protesters represent 1313 lineal feet, and he says there is a total of 3394 lineal feet between Palm and Fairmount avenues. Fifty-one per cent of the total, which Mr. Lind states is necessary to make a protest effective is 1730 feet.

To Hear Protests

City Clerk Webster says the next step in the proceedings, following the city's ordinance of intention to institute condemnation proceedings, will be to set a date when verbal protests may be made to the trustees.

The proposal is to change the width of the boulevard twenty feet, making it 100 instead of eighty feet, the extra width being made on the north side of the street.

Hurt in Collision

What might have been a very serious accident occurred at Main and Verdugo, when a Ford truck and a Buick car came together at the intersection of the two streets, both vehicles turning over. There were three persons in the melee—W. M. Scott, driver of the Buick car, and Manuel Sudro and Frank Camargo, who were on the truck and escaped without injury. Camargo, however, sustained a scalp wound, a slightly crushed chest and internal injuries—all of which necessitated his being taken to the Cottage hospital, where treatment was given.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Blackman and family of 128 Providencia avenue have left for Ontario, Ore., where they are going with expectations of making their home.

Apple Crop Short In Northwest Districts

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—The apple crop in the Northwest is expected to be short in some districts, but the Willamette Valley is counted on to fill any deficiency. Cherry production in Western Oregon is breaking all records.

GRANT LAND FOR STREET OPENING

Links Connecting York Blvd. With Townsend Avenue Is Now Possible

EAGLE ROCK, June 25.—The opening of Avenue Fifty-one from York boulevard to Townsend avenue has been made possible by the dedication of land by R. P. Allen and by the Silverwood interests. This makes the only through north and south highway across the hill between Annandale boulevard and Eagle Rock boulevard, a distance of about a mile and a half. This plat takes Avenue Fifty-one up the high hill along the south of Eagle Rock valley, by so easy a grade that in only two spots does it attain 15 per cent, whereas 20 per cent is permitted by the city, and there are regularly used streets down town having a rise of as much as 22 per cent in every 100 feet.

Back From College

Miss Frances Blackmer has returned from Berkeley, where she has been a student at the University of California. Miss Blackmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Blackmer.

Booklet Gives Hints On Looking Beautiful

When the correct rouge is correctly applied, the charm of the eyes is brought out without the use of crayonned shadows, according to the helpful little brochure, "Looking Your Best," which accompanies the dainty purse-package of Armand's face powder that the Ahlmann Drug company at the corner of Harvard street and Brand boulevard is giving free to each woman visitor on Friday and Saturday.

This and many other beauty hints are to be found in pamphlet which will be of interest to every user of facial creams and toilet articles. The Armand products, which are made in America, compare favorably with the finest imported lines, it is said, and the Ahlmann store always carries a complete stock of these goods as well as other well-known lines of toilet articles.

VICTORIAN STYLES

NEW YORK, June 25.—A little afternoon gown of dotted Swiss, worn here today, looks like a pleasant throwback to the better Victorian styles. The skirt is rather full, the bodice plain with a rounded neck. The Swiss itself is mulberry in shade with white dots.

BOARD ADDS MORE SCHOOL TEACHERS

Approves Additions to Staff At Regular Meeting Held Last Night

The following additions to the teaching staff of the Glendale city schools were approved at the meeting of the Board of Education last night:

Wilson Avenue: P. H. Johnson, physical education, boys; Miss Ruth T. Stall, music; William V. Rickel, general; Miss Mildred Lucile Chranicki, Spanish.

The resignation of Mrs. Ruth T. Davis Baughman, recently married, was accepted, and Miss Josephine Downs was granted a leave of absence for further university work. Walter F. Hanson, manual training supervisor, was appointed vice-principal of the Wilson Avenue school.

It was decided that the Wilson Avenue school will present too crowded a condition in the fall, and plans for additional bungalows were discussed. W. L. Twining headed a committee that appeared before the board asking that a public school be located in Verdugo canyon.

Name Delegates

It was agreed that Superintendent Richardson D. White of city schools and Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the board, will represent this city in Pasadena on Saturday, June 26, at a conference of education called to discuss future school legislation.

All of the members of the Board of Education were present at last night's meeting: Mrs. A. A. Barton, president; Harry W. Chase, secretary; David J. Hibben, E. H. Learned and Mrs. Arthur C. Brown. In addition Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, and John T. Cate, manager of the Glendale school district, were present.

SEND SHIPMENTS BY PARCEL POST

Big Volume of Goods Moves By Express System In Small Quantities

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 25.—The volume of goods being moved by express and parcel post in this country is increasing by leaps and bounds. This undoubtedly is due to the new system of buying frequently and in small quantities, which has taken such firm hold on the merchants of the United States.

Opinions differ as to whether this system has come to stay. Some manufacturers and wholesalers call it "hand-to-mouth buying" and feel that it will pass with establishment of greater business confidence and price stability. Others declare that the old custom of ordering large amounts in advance has gone forever from many lines of business. But at any rate, the system is in effect right now.

Increase Shown

One conservative manufacturer estimated today that sixty per cent of the total shipments of his factory now were sent by parcel post and express which represented 35 per cent of their dollar value. Formerly 95 per cent of the goods of this factory were shipped by freight. This concern sells direct to consumers.

A manufacturer of clothing who does most of his business with jobbers, asserts that 40 per cent of his shipments now are handled by the postoffice and the express companies and that these shipments represent 38 per cent of the money value of the whole output.

This trend of goods movement undoubtedly was given considerable consideration in the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission raising express rates in eastern territory about 8 per cent. This increase in business in the east has necessitated additional terminal and delivery service, express companies claim. It is to be noted that the bulk of goods which can be handled by express and parcel post is manufactured in eastern territory.

Oppose Tendency

Many manufacturers are bitterly opposing the tendency toward small and frequent orders. Formerly, they say, they were accustomed to receive orders for about 75 per cent of their customer's seasonal requirements. The remaining 25 per cent would be ordered as needed but even these additional shipments were usually handled by freight. This system, it is contended, permitted cheap handling of goods and allowed cheaper manufacturing costs. The manufacturer, it is argued, could buy raw materials cheaper and in large quantities, if his production were sold ahead and could reduce costs of each article by running at high rate of production during his busy season. These manufacturers estimate the additional cost of handling goods by parcel post and express at four per cent of their cost to the retailer. In the case of goods sold thus to jobbers and resold on a similar basis to retailers the additional cost would be doubled.

Reduces Storage

On the other hand, the retailers who follow the short order plan and some of the manufacturers state that it permits them to dispense with expensive storage space, that it protects them against drops in price, changes in style and falling off in demand, that it cuts down their insurance charges and that it minimizes the gambling risk.

These men contend that it is of benefit to the factories in that it tends to give a steady, all-the-year-round production instead of periods of extreme activity and extreme dullness, that it allows working forces to be kept intact and that by quick turn over the retailers are able to discount their bills instead of demanding long periods of credit. These factors they feel outweigh the additional costs of transportation and the difference in price entailed by buying in small rather than large quantities.

At all events the system is firmly established as a fixed policy in many retail and jobbing lines for the present at least.

The Case of Jennie Brice Serial Story

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXVII

Defense called Jonathan Alexander, a druggist who testified that on the night in question he had been roused at half past three by the prisoner, who had said his wife was ill, and had purchased a bottle of a proprietary remedy from him. His identification was absolute.

The defense called Jennie Brice's sister, and endeavored to prove that Jennie Brice had had no such scar. It was shown that she was on intimate terms with her family and would hardly have concealed an operation of any gravity from them.

The defense scored that day. They had shown that the prisoner had told the truth when he said he had gone to a pharmacy for medicine that night for his wife; and they had shown that a woman, answering the description of Jennie Brice, spent two days in a town called Horner, and had gone from there on Wednesday after the crime. And they had shown that this woman was attired as Jennie Brice had been.

That was the way things stood on the afternoon of the fourth day, when court adjourned.

Mr. Reynolds was at home when I got there. He had been very much subdued since the developments of that first day of the trial, sat mostly in his own room, and had twice brought me a bunch of jonquils as a peace-offering. He had the kettle boiling when I got home.

"You have had a number of visitors," he said. "Our young friend Howell has been here, and Mr. Holcombe has arrived and has a man in his room."

Mr. Holcombe came down a moment after, with his face beaming.

"I think we've got him, Mrs. Pitman," he said. "The jury won't even go out of the box."

But further than that he would not explain. He said he had a witness locked in his room, and he'd be glad of supper for him, as they'd both come a long ways. And he went out and bought some oysters and a bottle or two of beer. But as far as I know, he kept him locked up all that night in the second-story front room. I don't think the man knew he was a prisoner. I went in to turn down the bed, and he was sitting by the window, reading the evening paper's account of the trial—an elderly gentleman, rather professional-looking.

Mr. Holcombe slept on the upper landing of the hall that night, rolled in a blanket—not that I think his witness even thought of escaping, but the little man was taking no chances.

At eight o'clock that night the things like a man."

admitted him myself, and he followed me back to the dining-room. I had not seen him for several weeks, and the change in him startled me. He was dressed carefully, but his eyes were sunken in his head, and he looked as if he had not slept for days.

Mr. Reynolds had gone upstairs, not finding me socially inclined.

"You haven't been sick, Mr. Howell, have you?" I asked.

"Oh, no, I'm well enough, I've been traveling about. Those infernal sleeping-cars—"

His voice trailed off, and I saw him looking at my mother's picture, with the jonquils beneath.

"That's curious!" he said, going closer. "It looks almost like Lida Harvey."

"My mother," I said simply.

"Have you seen her lately?"

"My mother?" I asked, startled.

"No, Lida."

"I saw her a few days ago."

"Here?"

"Yes. She came here, Mr. Howell, two weeks ago. She looks badly—as if she is worrying."

"Not—about me?" he asked eagerly.

"Yes, about you. What possessed you to go away as you did? When my—bro—when her uncle accused you of something, you ran away, instead of facing things like a man."

"I was trying to find the one person who could clear me, Mrs. Pitman." He sat back, with his eyes closed; he looked ill enough to be in bed.

"And you succeeded?"

"No."

I thought perhaps he had not been eating and I offered him food, as I had once before. But he refused it, with the ghost of his boyish smile.

"I'm hungry, but it's not food I want. I want to see her," he said.

I sat down across from him and tried to mend a table-cloth, but I could not sew. I kept seeing those two young things, each sick for a sight of the other, and, from wishing they could have a minute together, I got to planning it for them.

"Perhaps," I said finally, "if you want it very much—"

"Very much!"

"And if you will sit quiet, and stop tapping your fingers together until you drive me crazy, I might contrive it for you. For five minutes," I said. "Not a second longer."

Views and Previews Theatres News Notes From Studios

Compiled by Members of The Evening News Staff

Murphy's Comedians have picked another winner in "It's A Boy," now showing 8 o'clock nightly at their tent on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue.

This play was a big hit in New York and will open at the Moroscco Theatre, Los Angeles, in August. To Murphy's Comedians goes the honor of presenting it for the first time on the Pacific coast, states J. A. Menard, manager of the company.

"It's a Boy" is a hilarious farce, of the type audiences greet with continuous laughs. It goes from one screamingly funny situation to another, as the comic incidents pile up, until a climax is reached that equals anything ever seen on the American stage.

"Dirty Hands" completes the four-picture agreement between Marcus Loew and Jackie, and will be delivered late this summer, just prior to Jackie's departure to the Near East where he will take the "million dollar milk cargo" to the starving orphans of Syria, Greece, Armenia and the Holy Land.

NEW 'FOLLIES' STAR

Occasionally one meets among the newcomers in pictures a girl from the Follies. Dolores Rousse, who just finished a small part with Herbert Rawlinson in "Dark Stairways," directed by Robert F. Hill for Universal, is the latest in the Universal studios. In six months' time she has made considerable progress in film work.

FULLER DOLLS UP

Dale Fuller for the first time in her pictorial career is appearing in a dressed-up part. As Countess Olga Gleboff in "His Hour" she wears the jewels and clothes of a lady of title and position. Heretofore she has been identified with comedy and with grotesque drama.

RETURNS FROM LONDON

Having gone abroad to see that Europe isn't cheated out of any of her husband's pictures, Mrs. Tom Mix has arrived in New York from London and Paris, where she met a number of exhibitors and arranged for the showing of the lively Tom's latest efforts.

HARRY HILLIARD RETURNS

That talented actor, Harry Hilliard, will shortly be among us again. Mr. Hilliard has been adding luster to the teaching corps of the Egan Dramatic school during the past year and a half, but lately spent four months in Europe. He will come home next week.

Lillian Gish Picture At United Theatre

Lillian Gish in "The White Sister," an outstanding film triumph, is now showing at the United Theatre, Eagle Rock, at popular prices. Henry King, who directed this picture, is the man who made "Tol'able David," "Sonny," "The Bright Shawl" and many other big screen hits.

"The White Sister" gives Miss Gish what critics co..cede to be her best role yet, a role that for depth of emotional feeling recalls some of her notable earlier successes with D. W. Griffith, among them "Hearts of the World," "Way Down East" and "Broken Blossoms."

THE GLENDALE

"Thy Name Is Woman" continues at the Glendale Theatre.

THE T. D. & L.

Walter Hiers in "Fair Week" is the attraction today only at the T. D. & L.

THE GATEWAY

"Tiger Love" shows today only at the Gateway Theatre. For the balance of the week the feature is "Code of the Sea".

LET PUBLIC DECIDE

Public editing of cinema drama would go a long way toward solving the kind of pictures the public wants, thinks William Beaudine, well-known director, now engaged in making a picture version of the stage success, "Cornered," for Warner Brothers.

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN

Elaine Hammerstein has decided to cast her fortunes with the rapidly increasing playing forces of Waldorf Productions, according to an announcement made yesterday by Harry Cohn, producing head for that organization on the west coast.

Olive Hasbrouck, new screen "discovery" at Universal City, insists on being a tomboy. For the fourth time in a few weeks she has donned boy's clothes. It's for her feminine leading role opposite William Desmond in "Big Timber," and therefore quite correct and according to Hoyle.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE SKIPPY NUT

Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods one day, when he met the two little Squiggle Bugs. These two curious little chaps, something like Lady Bugs, only a bit larger, were good friends of the rabbit gentleman, and had often helped him in times of trouble.

"Hello, little Squiggle Bugs," cried Uncle Wiggily in his jolly voice, as soon as he saw the two small creatures sitting on a toadstool near a little spring of water.

"Hello! Hello!" answered the Squigglers, but their voices were so filled with sorrow and sadness that the bunny gentleman looked at them a second time and asked:

"What is the mattter? Why are you unhappy?"

"Because no one ever invites us to their house to have lunch or tea," said the larger Squiggle Bug.

"To say nothing of coffee," sighed the smaller Squiggler.

"Ha! Ha! laughed Uncle Wiggily. "So that's why you are sad, is it? Well, cheer up! Be happy! Smile! Twinkle your pink noses—oh, I forgot, you you haven't any noses—pink or blue either—to twinkle! Never mind—be happy—your troubles are over."

"How come?" asked the larger Squiggle Bug."

"Why, you are coming to my hollow stump bungalow to have tea!" said the rabbit. "I invite you—now—fly along!"

"This is very kind of you," buzzed the larger Squiggle Bug. "We thought no one would ever invite us, but now that you have we are very happy. Come, brother, smile for Uncle Wiggily!" and the larger Squiggle Bug tickled the smaller one under the chin.

Then the two Squigglers smiled for the rabbit gentleman and off they flew through the air toward the hollow stump bungalow, for they knew where it was, having visited there before. Uncle Wiggily came hopping along behind them, but, as the Squiggle Bugs flew faster, they reached the bungalow first.

"Uncle Wiggily sent us to have tea with him," they said to Nurse Jane.

"You are very welcome," spoke the muskrat lady housekeeper, and she put a spool of thread on the floor as a stool for the Squigglers to sit on.

Pretty soon along hopped Uncle Wiggily.

"I have invited company to tea, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," he said, not, at first, seeing the Bugs.

"Yes, they are already here," laughed the muskrat lady. "Well, you go in and talk to them while I set the table."

So Uncle Wiggily talked to the Squigglers, who sat on the spool of thread, and pretty soon Nurse Jane called from the dining room.

"Tea is ready, but I don't see how the little Squiggle Bugs are going to sit up at the table. Even Baby Bunty's high chair will be too large for them."

"I'll fix it," said Uncle Wiggily. From half an orange seed he made a cute little table, with pieces of toothpicks for legs. This tiny table was set on top of the rabbit's big dining room table and, with little lumps of sugar for chairs, the Squiggle Bugs said they could drink their tea most comfortably.

So with the Squigglers sitting at the little table on the big table, tea was served, and a very jolly meal it was. Of course the Bugs ate very little—such as half a crumb of bread, a quarter of a drop of molasses and a quarter of a teaspoonful of tea.

"You would never eat anyone out of house and home," laughed Nurse Jane, as she passed the Bugs two crumbs of rose leaf cake.

"They may stay with us ten years if they like," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. The rabbit gentleman was eating English walnuts, breaking the shells into two even halves and taking out the meat. When some of the walnut shells were empty he put the two halves together again, making them stick with some wet sugar. The empty shells looked like real nuts.

Just for fun the larger Squiggle Bug got inside one of the empty nut shells and Uncle Wiggily fastened him in.

"I'll make believe I'm playing hide-and-go-seek" laughed the Squiggle Bug in the walnut shell.

Suddenly there was a noise at the window, and, before Nurse Jane could stop him, in jumped the Fuzzy Fox.

"Ah ha. Having tea!" barked the Fox. "Well, I'll eat, too! 'I'll nibble your ears, Uncle Wiggily. But, just as he was going to do that, one of the walnuts on the table began to roll about. It jiggled and joggled from side to side, and finally it jumped up in the air and banged the Fox on the nose. "What's that?" barked the Fox.

"That," said Uncle Wiggily, "is a skippy nut. See it skip!"

"A skippy nut," howled the Fox, holding his paw to his nose. "I never heard of such a thing!" And just then the Squiggle Bug inside the walnut shell wiggled and squiggled and up skipped the nut again, banging the Fox still harder on his nose. "Wow! Ouch!" howled the bad chap. "I've had enough of skippy nuts! Oh, my sore nose!" and out of the bungalow he ran.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the rabbit as he opened the nut shell and let out the Squiggle Bug. "I'm glad I invited you to tea."

The Squigglers were glad, also.

Among the new buildings planned in the business district is a large moving picture theatre to be erected by Henry C. Jensen of Los Angeles on Brand boulevard. The local Methodists expect to start a $40,000 church in the next few months.

The Pacific Electric railway will finish the lowering of its tracks on Brand boulevard next week. The same corporation has completed preliminary work incident to the building of the loop extending from Brand boulevard to Glendale avenue and thence to the Childs tract, terminating at the main line in Tropico.

The cement bridge across the Verdugo wash on Canada boulevard is one of the improvements that are expected to result in great benefit to this city. The bridge will not only bring beautiful Verdugo park and Glendale Heights district into closer touch with Glendale, but will also shorten the route to the Crescenta-Canada valley and Pasadena.

VAN NUYS ISSUES DEFI TO LOCALS

Valley Players Think They Can Beat Sox, Winner Take All Basis

Ball players on many of the strongest ball teams in the southwest have got their heads together and expressed the thought that the Glendale White Sox are traveling along at too brisk a pace, and in their anxiety to upset the consecutive win record of the pale hose wearers, have started hurling challenges at Carl Sawyer and his championship team which has piled up nineteen victories without a defeat.

The first of these strong teams to be bothered with what the psycho-analysists have dubbed a superior complex camps up the valley at a thriving little city known to Rand McNally and the rest of the map makers as Van Nuys. So confident are the Van Nuys players that their superior complex is working right, that they offered to come here Sunday to play the White Sox on a winner take all basis.

The offer, challenge and defi were immediately accepted by Frank Kerwin, guiding star of the White Sox, and prospects of a hot and heavy battle at the San Fernando park next Sunday is looming upon the baseball horizon.

Team Is Intact

The White Sox team will be intact for the occasion, and Reiger will do the hurling. Reiger demonstrated that he has something besides a glove when he turned back the pick of the Pacific Fleet Sunday by a 8 to 6 score, striking out seven sailors and walking only one. He sort of showed up Moudy, much-touted U. S. S. California star hurler who has a contract with the Seals tucked in his sea bag awaiting his final discharge next month.

The baseball fans took a liking to Kerwin's idea of removing the fences last week and expressed such appreciation of this fact that Kerwin has ordered the fences left along for next Sunday, which means the whole world is again invited to the park. Automobiles will be allowed to park around the outfield without charge, and all the fans have to do to see the game is walk in and look. Of course, the grandstand will still be there, and choice, shady seats therein will be retailed at the usual amount.

MILK FUND BOUTS MAY UPSET CARDS

Stribling and Greb to Face Husky Chaps Thursday; Meet July Fourth

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 25.—Young Stribling, who is training for his bout against Paul Berlenbach at the milk fund show next Thursday, will have to show his best stuff if only because he will need all the additional prestige he can accumulate to draw a crowd to the Michigan City arena on July Fourth. On the nation's great day he is carded to meet Harry Greb. Greb is also on the Milk Fund card, facing Ted Moore, the English middleweight.

Suppose both Moore and Berlenbach were to stow away their more famous opponents? There would be mourning among the Michigan City promoters that would resound from ocean to ocean. No one expects Greb to receive his quietus. Harry may pull a bum bout every once in a while, but he always keeps resin off his fighting trunks.

Stribling Active

As for Berlenbach, if Stribling should stay still a moment and hold out his jaw it is more than possible he would hear the birds singing in the magnolias of faraway Dixie. But William Lawrence is hardly likely to prove so amiable as all that. He is an active lad, and lads of his sort are difficult targets for the stolid Paul to shoot at.

Stribling, by the way, is training on top of a Newark hotel, and looks to be in the very pink of shape. Pa Stribling is talking about a late summer trip to Europe. McTigue is met on Labor Day.

Phil Salvadore Loses To Farren at Vernon

Phil Salvadore, lightweight favorite in many coast city arenas, proved easy picking for Frankie Farren last night at Doyle's Vernon Coliseum. The first round was even, but Farren won the remaining three by safe margins. Farren's victory came through the constant use of his left hand with telling effect on Salvadore's head.

Young Datto won over Tommy Cater in the semi-windup. Nick Newman was given the decision over Fred Sullivan in the special heavyweight bout. K. O. Kelly, substituting for Billy Young, was too much for Mike De Pinto. Manny Kaplan and Benny Demske, 165-pounders, put up a good scrap, but Manny was too good. Jack Doran lasted just two minutes and thirty seconds against Sailor Zadick. Scotty Diest and Jimmy Levantahl, lightweights, were even in the opening bout.

CIVIC BODY MAY SAVE FRANCHISE

Chamber of Commerce Is Asked by Lane to Forestall Transfer of Club

SALT LAKE CITY, June 25.—Subsidy by the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce to save the Salt Lake baseball club for this city is under consideration by the board of governors, following a meeting of the Athletic committee with H. W. Lane, president of the Salt Lake club.

Mr. Lane told the members of the committee that the club faces a $40,000 deficit for this season, that every team coming here takes a loss, and that he is under constantly increasing pressure from the other seven members of the Pacific Coast league to let the franchise go elsewhere, or else make of Salt Lake an "orphan" traveling club.

Lane said that $10,000 should be the weekly receipts in order to break even. This figure has not been touched since the first week of the season. Lane said he could see no solution from a straight attendance standpoint, and that only a subsidy from the Chamber of Commerce would forestall transfer of the franchise.

Tilers Gather Three Off Psenner Brothers

The Glendale Tile & Mantel team climbed a little further towards the top of the City Bowling league last night, when they took three games from the Psenner Brothers team. Hammes of the winners rolled 247 in the second game, 215 in the first and 202 in the third. F. Brehme pushed Hammes for honors, rolling 246 in the third game.

Miss Wills Wins In Second Round as Mlle. Lenglen Defeats Opponent

WIMBLEDON, June 25.—Miss Helen Wills of California, American woman tennis champion, and Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, French woman tennis champion, were both victorious in the second round play in the British lawn tennis championships this afternoon.

Miss Wills defeated Miss Bransfield, 6-0, 6-2. Mlle. Lenglen defeated Miss Erlicke, 6-0, 6-0. Both played in excellent form.

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory of New York, former American woman tennis champion, was defeated by Miss Kathleen McKane of England this afternoon, 6-1, 6-0. The American star was completely outplayed by her younger rival.

In the third round Gordon Lowe defeated Fisher, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

RETIRES FIRST 23

After he had retired the first twenty-three batters to face him, Rixey weakened, and the Pirates came on to wn, 4 to 3, from the Reds.

PITCHERS' BATTLE WON BY PORTLAND

Schroeder, Thomas Hook Up In Classy Hurling; Error Costs Game

By BEN McGUIRE
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—George "Lefty" Schroeder, Portland hurler, and Claude "Lefty" Thomas, Tiger southpaw, engaged in a classy pitching duel yesterday. Schroeder had the better of the argument, and Portland won, 2 to 1.

Thomas can blame himself for the Tigers' defeat, when he threw the ball into centerfield, in attempting to complete a double-play in the first inning. Distell, first batter to face Thomas, strolled, McCann crashed a double to left, Miller poled a single to center, Distell counting. With McCann on third and Miller on first, Cox hit to Thomas, who hesitated for a second, then heaved the ball past Griffin into center, McCann scoring. High ended the inning by hitting into a double-play.

The Tigers' rally came in the fourth. Pete Schneider planted a single in center, Blakesley was an easy out, Kimmick and Murphy both gathered infield hits, and Warner scored Pete with a sacrifice fly.

The Angels and Bees got lots of batting practice and more exercise in the game yesterday at Salt Lake, won by the Seraphs by the marvelous score of 19 to 16. Home runs were slammed out by Cook, Lewis, Jacobs, Jenkins and McAuley. Nearly everybody on both teams got at least one hit. The defeat put the Bees in second division. Numerous hurlers were used by both sides.

The Oaks fared not so well on their invasion of Sacramento yesterday and the Solons won 9 to 1. Kunz started for the bay men but was relieved in the seventh by Harris. Hall went the route for the Senators. McNeely gathered a single, a two-bagger and a homer.

The Seals took a little firmer grip on first place when they defeated the Indians at San Francisco 4 to 3 yesterday. The score was tied until the ninth when Mulligan doubled, Hendryx was hit, Kilduff walked and Rhyne singled, scoring Mulligan and winning the game.

Pasadena Merchants To Play El Segundo

Fresh from their victory over the Catalina Cubs, a victory that was the first registered this season against the Islanders, the El Segundo club of the Summer league will remain at home Sunday to battle with Lorin Ury's Pasadena Merchants for second place in the summer loop. The Merchants have been playing fast ball since the league opened, and the only two games they lost was to the Glendale White Sox.

Lefty Bell and Johnny Keltus will be on hand to hurl for the El Segundo team. Keltus was largely responsibe for the El Segundo victory over the Islanders last Sunday. Groat or Manker will do the hurling for Pasadena.

The Colored All-Stars, having completed their Summer league schedule, will journey to Oxnard to play the fast team at that place.

Pastor Raps Capital Police for Laxness

SACRAMENTO, June 25.—Vitriolic denunciation of the city police department was made by Rev. Edwin E. Meires of the Nazarene church, for alleged laxness in enforcing the law.

The minister declared he was in possession of evidence to show that dance halls are allowed to operate in this city where nude women dance before hundreds of male spectators.

Bootleggers maintain resorts immediately under the eyes of the police without molestation, the clergyman said, specifying that on J street between Second and Tenth no less than ten such places were running in defiance of the law.

SENATORS LEADING

Winning their third straight from the Yankees, coupled with the double defeat administered the Tigers by the Browns, sent the Senators into first place in the American league race. The Yanks hold second place by a margin of five points over the Tigers. The Giants chalked up their tenth straight victory when they defeated the Dodgers and increased their lead to two and a half games over the Cubs, who were idle.

JACOBSEN GETS TWO

Jacobsen knocked out his eighth and ninth home runs in the Browns' double victory over the Tigers.

Deaths per thousand automobiles in large cities of this country last year were 46 per cent of those in 1915.

NEW YORK CLOSING

H. J. DUIZEND
For International News Service

NEW YORK, June 25.—For the greater part of today's session the stock market was under the influence of the strong and active movement in railroad stocks. A number of the best price records of the year were shattered in the brisk trading. Southern railway at 62½ sold at the highest price in its history.

After a moderate participation in the upward movement the oils received a setback on publication of the details of the government's suit against the Standard Oil and independent oil companies, alleging violations of the anti-trust laws.

After its recovery from the noon selling movements in the oils, the market inaugurated another forward movement under the leadership of the Northwestern railroad stocks.

The market turned sluggish in the fourth hour, with the starting of the nominations in the Democratic convention. Commodities were generally steady with prices higher both in cotton and grain, and foreign exchange was steady.

A forward movement in New Haven and Central featured the last period of trading, both issues selling up to a new high for the year. Industrials were buoyant in this period and only the oils lagged behind the general list.

Stock sales today: 834,600 shares; bonds, $16,989,000.

Labor Shows Surplus In Three West States

SACRAMENTO, June 25. — Surplus of labor, practically universal throughout California, Washington and Oregon, is indicated in the report just issued by the United States Department of Labor.

During the month of May, according to the report, "general curtailment of business operations" and influx of labor from other states contributed materially to the increase of unemployment. The recent cattle quarantine also had a tendency to restrict business in California.

Universal slackening in the lumber industry is reported in California and employment in iron and steel industries is rated as "unsteady." While the building industry shows little decline as a whole, there is a surplus of labor in nearly all lines, ascribed to the advent of outside labor. No great call for agricultural or mine workers exists, except in a few sections. The report states that "Public improvements and road construction should be the means of easing the employment situation somewhat."

Continued depression and consequent unemployment in the lumber industry in Oregon and Washington is noted. Surplus labor is also in evidence in the iron and steel trades and many longshoremen are not employed on the Puget Sound waterfronts. In the building trades a surplus of labor is noted, excepting bricklayers and plasterers.

Moffatt Road Plans Branch to Oil Field

DENVER, June 25.—The Denver and Salt Lake railroad (the Moffatt road) has ordered a survey west from Craig, Colo., its present terminus, with a view to tapping the Hamilton Dome oil fields, and ultimately running into Salt Lake City. This will also open up a new sheep country. Field buyers for wool, however, seem to have dropped out of the market for Colorado product recently, for transactions have been confined to small drive-in lots, with no sales at above 30 cents a pound. Lots which last week were held for above 35 cents now are being offered at 30 to 35 cents. Sales of light weight clothing are going with the thermometer and starw hats are experiencing a heavy run.

Recession of Business In St. Louis Section

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—There undoubtedly is a moderate recession of business in this section at present, according to local financiers. Industrial production and employment are declining and prices weakening. Many of the gains of the early year have been lost. Political events may have helped to dampen sentiment, but the principal cause has been overexpansion of domestic productive capacity. The paring down of production, now in progress, is tending toward a better balance between supply and demand. Steel, shoes and hides are steadier although competition is keen, costs high and profits narrow. Domestic wholesale prices are the lowest since 1922 in iron with small buying for quick shipment the rule.

Burroughs Earnings Increase 2.75 Per Cent

DETROIT, June 25.—The Burroughs Adding Machine company has just announced that its earnings for the year ending December 31, last, amounted to $4,443,927, after all charges and depreciation. Sales amounted to $28,404,508, an increase of 27.5 per cent over 1922.

OWENSMOUTH MAN WEDS LOCAL GIRL

geles, who later played the Lohengrin Wedding March.

The rich coral and blue shades seen in the floral setting were again combined in the gowns of the bride's two maids. Miss Clara Steiner appeared in a turquoise blue georgette, made with ecru lace and worn with gold slippers, while Miss Gladys Polsey wore coral georgette, made with cream lace and worn with silver slippers. Each one carried an old fashioned bouquet of sweetpeas in the various pastel shades.

Mildred Foresyth was the dainty little miss who scattered rose petals in the bride's path. She wore a gown of Nile green crepe de chine, made with ecru lace and trimmed with handmade French rose buds. The basket she carried bore a huge pink bow on the handle.

Harold Abrahams carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Attending Mr. Davis as best man was Carl Miller of Owensmouth.

The bride and her father entered together. She wore a bridal gown of white georgette, made on long lines, with silver and crystal bead trimming. Her silk net veil, caught by a bandeau of orange blossoms, fell in points to the hem of her dress. A shower of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern was her bouquet.

Mrs. Humbert wore beige georgette, heavily beaded in iridescent beads. Mrs. Davis was gowned in brown georgette, also beaded.

After congratulations were extended the young couple the bride cut her beautiful cake, which was served with other refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left at a later hour for a honeymoon trip that will take them to Lake Tahoe and other northern points. They are to be at home after August 15 in their new home in Owensmouth, where Mr. Davis is in business.

For traveling Mrs. Davis chose beige silk, with hat to match.

Both young people have hosts of friends and the many lovely gifts they received bespeak the many wishes for happiness extended to them.

Well Known Here

The Humbert family has resided in Glendale five years and during this time has made a wide circle of friends. Friends of theirs and the Davis family from Long Beach, Los Angeles, Whittier, El Monte and Owensmouth attended the wedding.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. Davis' grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Davis, a bride of over sixty years ago.

Adding greatly to the happiness of the event was a message received from Mr. Humbert's mother, Mrs. M. A. Humbert of Topeka, Kan., who is now 83 years of age.

Postoffice Improves Parcel Post Delivery

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson reports that two new government parcel post trucks are being assembled at the local office and will be put in service on July 1. He states that the new Ford trucks will make possible a swifter delivery service and will greatly facilitate the handling of parcel post packages. This improvement is in line with a series of changes planned by the Glendale officials to better the delivery service. In order to properly care for the outlying districts, they have planned to put into operation a motorcycle with side car attachment, in the near future.

WOMEN DEDICATE NEW CLUB HOUSE

Mrs. Chas. H. Toll Delivers Inspiring Address at Tujunga Ceremony

Spangled Banner" sung in chorus. Mrs. Strong circled the room and presented the flag to her daughter, Mrs. Jones, for the club. This part of the program made a deep impression on the assembled guests.

Little Jean Zachau, flower girl, presented a basket of American Beauties to Mrs. Strong and Mary Theobald went forward with a basket of white roses for Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Jones then introduced Mrs. Toll, who made an inspiring speech on the significance of the occasion. Referring to the flag presentation, Mrs. Toll reminded the ladies of their duty to the United States government. The men who contributed to the successful campaign for a club house were commended for their part in the building. Mrs. Toll compared the club house to the material side of life, representing that side which cannot be seen, the spiritual, builded upon the firm foundation of tolerance for all. The door, Mrs. Toll said, is a welcome, good and fine, the windows admit the fresh air of purity and the roof is the symbol of the protecting care above us. Mrs. Toll closed her remarks by expressing the wish that the Tujunga Woman's club house would continue to grow in beauty and be to those who pass to other parts of the earth an ever-bright memory, and asked God's blessing on the members and their friends.

Introduces Guests

Club presidents and representatives were then introduced by Mrs. Jones. Among those who addressed the assembly were: Mrs. Hubbard, president of the San Fernando Civic league; Mrs. Griswold, president, San Fernando Ebell club; Mrs. Johnson, president, La Canada Thursday Afternoon club; Mrs. Hersey, Pacoima Woman's club; Mrs. McGann, Valley Vista; Mrs. Walker, chairman of the reception committee which arranged the excursion and entertainment at the San Fernando Mission for delegates to the seventeenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs, recently held in Los Angeles; Mrs. Clarence G. Buck, Monte Vista Woman's club; Dr. Jessie Russell, president of the Business Woman's club of Glendale; Mrs. Beecher, Mission Acres; Mrs. Woodward, president-elect of the Newhall Woman's club, who was accompanied by fourteen members of her organization; Mrs. Carr, Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale.

Mrs. McGann of Valley Vista made a suggestion that was favorably received by the ladies, to the effect that all clubs of the San Fernando valley make an effort to get together at least once each year for a joint meeting.

Mrs. Walker stated in her address that it is very probable that a permanent organization will be formed by the committee of which she was chairman during the entertainment of convention delegates during the recent gathering in Los Angeles. Fourteen clubs were represented on the committee, and the members believe much can be accomplished by the permanent organization of such a body.

Building Campaign

In response to an inquiry by Mrs. Johnson of the La Canada Thursday Afternoon club, Mrs. Warnick, Mrs. Barry and Mrs. Mark White, president-elect of the Tujunga club, outlined the course that had been followed in the campaign for building funds. This was of especial interest to the La Canada club, as it is in the midst of a similar campaign to establish a permanent home on property already acquired. Chief among the methods used was the cooked food and luncheon sale, which have been given regularly by the members of the Tujunga club during the past year, with results that surpassed their expectations. Over $1000 has been raised during the term of Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, which comes to a close with her retirement Thursday June 26, when she will be succeeded by Mrs. Mark White, who has been chairman of the building committee. Three years ago, during the presidency of Mrs. Dan J. Warnick, the building fund was started with a small sum, and, as the members gained enthusiasm, the campaign gained impetus through the succeeding terms of Mrs. Guy Barry and Mrs. Nelson E. Jones which culminated in the erection of a building of which the Tujunga club is very proud.

Mrs. Jones spoke to the assembled clubwomen, expressing appreciation for the support given by members of her club and the friendship of associated clubs. Mrs. Jonderton entertained with piano selections and refreshments were served. J. H. Lamson, Tujunga photographer, took pictures of Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Strong and their escorts.

'Forty and Eight' to Hold Big Promenade

The grand promenade of the Forty-and-Eight, the fun organization within the Legion, will be held this year at Santa Cruz on August 5, under the leadership of Grand Chef de Gare Ralph M. Kern. A huge initiation of candidates and parade will be the principal items of interest. Voiture 47 of Los Angeles county, the largest in the world, is planning to send a large delegation.

Mrs. William S. Teters of 351 Hawthorne street left this morning over the Union Pacific for New York City, in company with her daughter. Shortly after their arrival at the eastern coast, they will sail for Europe, and spend the summer months making a tour of the continent, returning to Glendale early in the fall.

PAINTER HONORS TUJUNGA WRITER

Mrs. Laura Lee Sweet Gives Woodland Picture to News Correspondent

The work of one of The Glendale Evening News correspondents, F. A. Graham of Tujunga, has won a glowing recognition from the founder of the Tujunga Fine Arts Guild, Mrs. Laura Lee Sweet, one of the southland's noted artists, and a member of the Glendale Art Association.

In recognition of the publicity given the artists of this region by Mr. Graham, Mrs. Sweet devoted many hours of her time to painting a picture of a woodland scene, behind which the majestic peaks of the Sierra Madres rise in their grandeur, and has presented it to Mr. Graham as a token of appreciation for the assistance he and The Glendale Evening News have given to the association and the guild.

Mrs. Sweet's work is well known to Glendale art lovers, as she exhibited at the recent display of pictures that was arranged by the Glendale Art Association, where her paintings won high commendation.

Who? saved money

One man bought low-priced roofing for his home and saved $15 on its first cost as compared with the cost of Durable Roofing.

But he had to paint and repair it four times within the next nine years—and then entirely replace it.

Another man bought Durable Roofing—made under the famous Pabco Process—and at the end of the nine years a little paint put it into condition for many more years of satisfactory service.

ZEROLENE-LUBRICATED CARS WIN SIX OUT OF SEVEN YOSEMITE ECONOMY RUN TROPHIES

Does Zerolene "stand up"? The drivers of the four cars that won six of the seven trophies in the 1924 Los Angeles-Camp Curry (Yosemite) economy run say so. Read the extracts from their letters printed below. And consider these further facts:

Of the five Zerolene-lubricated cars entered in the race, four carried off prizes, including the sweepstakes won by the Overland, model 92. Six of the seven trophies offered went to cars using Zerolene. And incidentally, the oil consumption recorded by the official checks was remarkably small.

The sweepstakes winner writes:

"In spite of the intense heat to which the motor was subjected, when the ultimate check was made I found greatly to my surprise that the gauge showed absolutely no use of oil whatsoever. I attribute my success in winning the 1924 Yosemite Economy Sweepstakes greatly to the use of Zerolene in the motor and Red Crown gasoline in the tank."—Joe Bozzani.

To which the driver of the Overland, model 91, winner of the class 1-A prize, adds:

"The Overland 91 arrived at its destination showing absolutely no use of oil. Gentlemen, I think Zerolene as a lubricant is 100% of all you claim it to be, and I heartily recommend it for use in all internal combustion motors."—Romolo Bonaccini.

Here is what the drivers of the two Oakland entries think of Zerolene's performance:

"I know the big factor Zerolene lubrication played in assisting me to win the Enclosed Car Sweepstakes Cup and Class Cup, as the records show the Oakland sedan only consumed one pint of oil in the 400 miles."—A.L.Peterson.

"In the most severe Economy Run I have ever driven, this year's Los Angeles-Camp Curry Run, Zerolene proved its worth inasmuch as the 400 miles covered in the run the Oakland car I was driving used no oil, and when I checked into Los Angeles, covering in the round trip a total of 820 miles, I could put no oil in the crank-case. Considering this year's Economy Run the severest, with the heat averaging 110 degrees and the motor running at all times during the run, I consider Zerolene's performance remarkable." Harry Neville.

Six cars contested for the class 4-A trophy, and again Zerolene brought in a winner. Here is the driver's letter:

"I take this opportunity of thanking your Company for the results which we obtained by using Zerolene No. 7 in the Kissel automobile, which won in the recent Los Angeles-Camp Curry Economy Run."—H. L. Nichelson.

Isn't it time to dismiss forever the superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern oils, merely because they cost more and are made in the East? Experienced drivers, out to make economy records, don't share that superstition—why should you?

Insist on Zerolene, even if it does cost less.
